10c
A Week in Hope
Pay Carrier Each Saturday

Hope Star

WEATHER.
Arkansas—Partly cloudy and somewhat unsettled Tuesday night and Wednesday.

VOLUME 36—NUMBER 230 (AP)—Means Associated Press. (NEA)—Means Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n. HOPE, ARKANSAS, TUESDAY, JULY 9, 1935 Star of Hope 1899; Press, 1927; Consolidated January 18, 1929. PRICE 5c COPY

CALL SCHOOL FUNDING VOTE

Here and There

Editorial By ALEX. H. WASHBURN

NO ONE denies there are a lot of things wrong with the Hall 2 per cent sales tax; but they are errors of legislation and interpretation—there is nothing wrong with the sales tax either in its application to the trend of national events or its application to the internal affairs of Arkansas, a state which ever since the drouth year of 1930 has cravenly cried for all manner of special federal "relief" and stubbornly refused to pay the domestic bills that other states manfully have.

The cry for repeal of the sales tax comes at a time when the million dollars of special federal money granted our schools last spring is still in circulation.

Other states have to foot the bill for education of their children—and when Arkansas led the nation for a time in 1933 in the percentage of new automobiles against total registrations it ill behooves us to tell Washington that we have no money for schools.

A more manful spectacle is our neighbor Mississippi, which launched the sales tax plan several years ago and balanced both the state and school budgets.

This newspaper has fought for two taxation programs the last couple of years: A sales tax to cover all the people lightly; and a higher income tax rate to make the wealthier class bear an increasing share of the public burden.

The sales tax and the income tax are commonly held to be indisputably just.

A special session of the legislature may have to be called to amend the Hall law; but to call it this early would be foolish. It is better to wait until fall, when the sales tax will have been in effect long enough to reveal most of the errors—the greatest of which is the exemption of so many items. Sound policy demands a tax straight across the board, to obtain the lowest rate, exempting only those items already especially taxed by the state.

X X X

The most flagrant injustice in the interpretation of the Hall law has been done the automobile business.

It was understood by this newspaper, by the framers of the Hall act, and the public generally, that the law would offset the sales tax upon a new car against the amount of the state auto license. Thus, if the price of the car were $500 the 2 per cent sales tax would be $10, and if the license happened to be $10, then the net sales tax would be zero.

Some allowance had to be made on large capital purchases such as automobiles—or the automobile business would be extinguished in many Arkansas cities, a saving of $10 or $15 being sufficient to send the purchaser from Hope to Texarkana.

Section 15, subdivision 8 of the Hall law declares that on articles upon which the state is already collecting a privilege tax or license the sales tax shall be "equal to whatever is the excess above the already imposed privilege tax or license."

If your new automobile price demanded a sales tax of $15, and your license cost only $10, then the net sales tax would be $5.

This was the clear intent of the law—but Revenue Commissioner Earl Wiseman and Attorney General Carl Bailey are maintaining that the license is not deductible from the sales tax.

X X X

The Star helped get the automobile business into this jam, and it means to help get it out again regardless of time or cost—even though it means a complete reversal of our position on the sales tax.

There is no law superior to the law of economics—and anyone familiar with the map of Arkansas knows that under this interpretation of the Hall act the new-car business would be badly hurt in 10 Arkansas cities.

These cities would lose new car sales to other states, because of their location within a few miles of the state line.

It is a peculiar fact about our state that the great majority of her secondary cities are located, not in the central area, but around her extreme borders. Here are the 10 cities, running around the circumference of Arkansas:

Fayetteville, Fort Smith, Mena, DeQueen, Nashville, Hope, El Dorado, Helena, Blytheville and Harrison.

All of these cities have an import-

(Continued on page five)

Futrell to Call Sales Tax Session If Members Agree

Governor Puts It Up to Repeal Advocates to Obtain Pledges

AUTO SUIT IS NEAR

Dealers to Fight Bailey Opinion That License Is Not Deductible

LITTLE ROCK—Declaring that he is in favor of majority rule within constitutional limits, Governor Futrell late Monday challenged opponents of the state 2 per cent sales tax, in effect, to "put up or shut up."

After reviewing conditions under which the law was enacted as an emergency measure for two years, and voicing a warning that its repeal probably would result in the withholding of millions of dollars in federal grants, Governor Futrell said he would call a special session of the legislature to repeal the act, if opponents obtain written pledges of a majority of both houses to vote for repeal.

"The legislature thought passage of the law was the only course to pursue to avert a great public calamity," Governor Futrell said in a prepared statement. "If the legislature now is ready to repeal the law, let's get it off the statute books as quickly as possible and quit talking about it."

The statement was interpreted by other state officials as a blunt and reluctant plea that the sales tax be left undisturbed until it expires by the terms of the act, July 1, 1937.

Serious Consequences

Governor Futrell said in a conversation, after issuing the sales tax statement, that he was reasonably certain that repeal of the sales tax law would mean that Arkansas would receive no federal old age pension money, no more teacher aid and no more federal money for relief of unemployables, and added that such a reversal of the state's intention to meet additional relief requirements might mean withdrawal of other federal funds from the state.

Auto Tax Ruling

Attorney General Carl E. Bailey Monday completed an opinion to the effect that purchasers of new automobiles cannot deduct the cost of a license tag from the sales tax on the car.

In the same opinion, written by Assistant Attorney General Thomas Fitzhugh, it was held that no sales tax can be collected on a used car taken in by a dealer as part of the purchase price of a new car and then resold by the dealer.

Under this interpretation, the sales tax would apply to sales of second-hand cars purchased for cash by dealers.

After reviewing provisions of the sales tax act and court decisions in similar cases, Assistant Attorney General Fitzhugh said in part:

"I think it is clear that the automobile license fee is not a privilege tax or license on the 'retail sales on articles or commodities,' but is a tax on the privilege of using vehicles on

(Continued on page five)

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

To rule the waves, you can't waive the swimming rules.

Claude Mann to Direct District 7 Work Office Here

Malvern Publisher Executive Head for 9 Southwestern Counties

STANFORD CHANGED

Hope Man Transferred to Key Position at Camden, District 6

W. R. Dyess, state director of the Works Progress Administration, announced from Little Rock late Monday the appointment of District Seven officials preparatory to launching the WPA program in Arkansas.

Headquarters for District Seven will be in Hope. The district comprises nine southwestern Arkansas counties. They include, Hempstead, Miller, Howard, Sevier, Pike, Lafayette, Nevada, Clark and Little River.

District Officials

The setup follows:

Claude Mann, of Malvern, director. Man is a Malvern newspaper publisher. Key positions were given to C. O. Thomas, of Malvern; I. H. Moreland, of Little Rock; J. H. Dealy of Malvern; R. C. Stewart, of Columbus; C. T. Key, of Gurdon; Joe Floyd, of Hope; Charles Beasley, of Garland City; and Hosea Garrett, of Little Rock.

Major R. B. Stanford, district supervisor of the works division of the FERA with headquarters in Hope, has been given a key position in District Six with headquarters in Camden. No changes have been announced for other members of the FERA staff here.

Under the Works Progress Administration, State Director Dyess will launch a $50,000,000 works program in Arkansas to provide jobs at security wages for 60,000 able-bodied persons on the relief rolls.

July 20 Is Deadline

Dyess has instructed transfer of 20,000 workers from the Arkansas relief rolls to security-wage jobs by July 20.

Floyd Sharp, deputy administrator at Little Rock, will fly to Washington with 400 works project applications already submitted to the state office. These will be examined by federal WPA officials and submitted to the national Allotment Board for approval.

Included in the applications going to Washington will be several local project submitted to the state office at Little Rock from Hope.

Monday's 100 Is Hottest of Year

Temperature Drops Tuesday, With Mercury at 95 at 2 p. m.

Temperatures here Tuesday ranged up toward the 100 mark for the second consecutive day.

The official reading at 2 p. m. Tuesday was 95 degrees with prospects of a higher reading by mid-afternoon, the Fruit & Truck Branch Experiment station reported.

The thermometer registered 100 degrees at the station at 3 p. m. Monday, up one degree from the reading taken at 4 p. m. for publication.

3 Heat Deaths

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—(AP)—Heat caused three deaths in the Southwest Monday as high temperatures persisted. Two of the deaths were in northeastern Kansas, which has been the nation's hot spot for four days. The third was in Missouri.

Record temperatures for the year were established at many points in Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Tex-

(Continued on page six)

Bulletins

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark. — (Telegram to The Star from Arkansas Sales Tax Repeal Ass'n.)—This association is conducting a poll of the membership of the legislature to learn their stand on repealing the sales tax in a special session. The first 11 replies Tuesday show 9 members for repeal with 2 against. One senator voting for the bill is now ready to vote for repeal in a special session.

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—(AP)—Governor McAllister summoned Tennessee's legislatre Tuesday to meet in extra session next Monday to balance the state budget, "but by means other than legalization of liquor."

NANKING, China.— (AP) —The Yangtse river, swollen to the proportions of an inland sea, threatened 25 million persons Tuesday. Reports from the area said the stream had submerged all land for many miles on both banks.

Stonequist Hurt in Car Accident

Local J. C. Penney Co. Manager Turns Over West of Hope Tuesday

A. E. Stonequist, manager of the local J. C. Penney company store, was painfully injured early Tuesday morning when his automobile plunged off an eight-foot embankment 10 miles west of Hope and turned over three times.

He sustained injuries about the neck, back and shoulders, and suffered considerable shock. He was brought to Hope by a passing motorist and taken to his home on Park Drive.

Although painfully injured, Mr. Stonequist is not believed to be in a serious condition. Dr. L. M. Lile said that unless Mr. Stonequist re-acted favorably to the injuries he would be removed to Julia Chester hospital for X-ray examination.

He was en route to Marshal, Texas, to attend the funeral of a J. C. Penney store manager there. He was alone. The accident occurred about 6:30 a. m.

The cause of the mishap was said to be an approaching motorist headed east toward Hope. Reports said that the approaching automobile crowded Stonequist to the edge of the pavement where a wheel slipped off. Striking loose dirt, the Stonequist automobile swerved and overturned in the ditch.

He was riding in a new Ford sedan, which was badly damaged.

Hope Brick Works Fights Rail Rate

Unites With Malvern Company to Oppose Move Favoring Memphis

LITTLE ROCK.—The Arkansas Corporation Commission will resume a hearing Tuesday on the petition of the Hope Brick Works and the Malvern Brick & Tile Co. for suspension of the emergency intrastate freight rate increase authorized by the commission several weeks ago in keeping with an increase on interstate rates allowed by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The hearing was started Monday, but only about half the witnesses had testified when it was adjourned shortly after 5. Petitioners contend that the emergency increase on brick and similar building material, amounting to 20 cents per ton and 10 per cent additional on switching services and other special charges, gives competing firms in Memphis and other cities an unfair rate advantage over the Arkansas firms.

Prosecutor Fined for Fist-Fight in Municipal Court

$10 Levied Against P. T. Staggs for Clash With Luke F. Monroe

POOL IS ACQUITTED

Jury Clears Two Defendants in First Local Thorn Law Case

A fist-fight between Deputy Prosecuting Attorney P. T. Staggs and Attorney Luke Monroe furnished the highlights of municipal court proceedings here Monday afternoon.

The combat started in the court room before Municipal Judge W. K. Lemley and a packed crowd, ending in the municipal hall building when Sheriff Jim Bearden finally separated the pair.

After the battle ended the pugnacious deputy prosecutor was fined $10 for contempt of court.

An alleged remark made by Attorney Monroe during the taking of testimony in a trial case of Ray Hendrix and Mary Smith, led to the altrecation, spectators said.

In somewhat of a surprise move, Staggs charged into Monroe and several blows were exchanged in the court room. The pair fought their way into the municipal hall and there the struggle continued.

Monroe was said to have pulled a knife and slashed Staggs across the forehead. The wound is not dangerous. Sheriff Bearden separated the two. Staggs was fined for his attack upon Monroe and then court proceeded.

Pool, Hollamon Cleared

Preceding the fight, a jury brought in a verdict of acquittal in the cases of Martin Pool and Clyde Hollamon, both charged with violation of the Thorn package liquor law.

Deliberating only a short time, a jury composed of C. C. Spragins, Lloyd Spencer, Edgar Briant, John Haynes, Arch Moore and Gilbert Copeland, brought in the acquittal verdict.

Pool, operator of a beer parlor on Front street, was charged with possessing tax-paid liquor for purpose of sale in the beer establishment. Hollamon, employe of Pool, was charged with sale of liquor without proper license.

Pool admitted having two and a half pints of liquor in the beer parlor when it was raided July 4 by Sheriff Jim Bearden and revenue agents. Pool contended that the liquor was given to him as a present by two whisky salesmen. Several witnesses sustained Pool's testimony. Hollamon denied selling any liquor in the beer parlor.

Other Cases

Other cases heard Monday were:

Andrew Sutton was found guilty of assault and battery and was fined $50. The charge was reduced from assault with intent to kill.

Ray Hendrix and Mary Smith were found guilty of illegal cohabitation. Each was fined $20 and costs. Notice of appeal was given, bond being set at $150. It was during the Hendrix-Smith trial that the fight between Staggs and Monroe occurred.

Dennis Williams, taking and accepting an order for sale of untaxed liquor, found guilty and fined $250. Notice of appeal given. Bond was fixed at $350.

Ed Tollerson, possessing of tax-paid liquor for purpose of sale without a permit, dismissed by Deputy Prosecuting Attorney P. T. Staggs.

Counterfeit charges against Eli Gregory, Ray Hendrix, Bob Murray were dismissed by Deputy Prosecutor Staggs.

Johnnie Eubanks, Buddy West, Cordell Nelson and Ethel Cooper were found guilty of drunkenness. Each drew $10 fines.

Martial Law Ends for Baton Rouge

Guardsmen Evacuate Capital City for First Time Since January

BATON ROUGE, La.—(AP)—Martial law ended in Louisiana's state capitol Tuesday.

The military rule which had existed in East Baton Rouge parish since January 25 was terminted when the last handful of guardsmen on duty relinquished their supervision of the parish courthouse and evacuated the capital.

Their departure followed the revocation Monday by Governor O. K. Allen of his martial law proclamation issued when Senator Long charged that his political foes plotted to kill him.

Singing at Holly Springs

There will be an all day singing at Holly Springs, Sunday, July 14. There will be dinner on the ground. Plenty of shade and water. Everybody come and bring your song book and lets make this one of the bst singings of the season.

Proposal for Federal Sales Tax Abandoned in Committee

House Ways and Means Committee Confines Tax Program to President's Original Plan, on Incomes and Inheritances

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The house ways and means committee reached a unanimous decision Tuesda yto limit the new federal tax bill to levies only on individual and corporate incomes, inheritances and gifts.

Proposals for broadcasting President Roosevelt's tax program to include a sales tax and other "nuisance" levies, as well as solutions for other revenue problems, were discussed before a decision was reached to confine legislation to the points the president originally outlined.

To Limit Imports

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Senator Borah, Idaho Republican, is considering submitting an amendment to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration (AAA) to prohibit importation of all products similar to those on which American farmers have agreed to curtail production in return for federal benefit payments.

Borah said Tuesday there is no soundness in a policy of cutting American production to the point where foreign competitive goods can be sold in this country in larger quantities.

Seek River Funds

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Now that President Roosevelt's Works Allotment Board has recommended expenditure of 100 million dollars for reclamation projects, members of congress are expected to seek work relief funds to develop rivers and harbors.

The bill to spend 230 millions on rivers and harbors is now before congress but it carries no appropriation. The money presumably will have to come from emergency sources.

Power Lobby Flayed

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Charges of an unseen "super government" by "the power trust" Monday sharpened interest in a projected investigation of lobbying for and against the bill for abolition of "unnecessary" public utility holding companies.

While Representative Rankin, Democrat, Mississippi, leveled these charges, reiterated his accusation of wire tapping against utility men and asserted house members had been conferring constantly with power representatives, the power question was agitated on four points.

The house late Monday voted its rules committee full authority to subpoena witnesses and records in opening Tuesday its probe of any attempts to "intimidate or influence" house members on the utility bill.

The senate arranged to open Tues-

(Continued on page six)

Governor Denies Third Term Story

Replies Crisply to Insinuation Made by Representative Nyberg

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Governor Futrell said Tuesday that his sales tax statement Monday night was "as much indication that I will run for re-election as it was that frost will fall in Arkansas in August."

The governor declared, "That is all I have to say," when asked if his statement meant that he would not seek the governor's chair for a third term next year.

His comments were made in connection with a statement by Representative Leo Nyberg, of Helena, at a Pine Bluff anti-sales tax meeting, that that the governor would run for re-election.

Gambling Ship Is Raided by Pirates

Black-Hooded Men Board "Monte Carlo" and Obtain $32,000

LONG BEACH, Cal.—(AP) —Black-hooded pirates, carrying chains and leg irons to fasten their victims, Monday raided the luxurious gambling barge, Monte Carlo, and escaped with loot estimated at $32,000 in cash and jewelry.

Ed Turner, owner of the barge, reported to officers that five men, wearing black silk stockings over their heads, swarmed aboard the boat during a dense fog and quickly chained 13 members of the crew.

The Monte Carlo is anchored about eight miles off the coast and the raid occurred at 4 a. m., after patrons had been taken ashore in launches.

Turner said J. M. Skeller, ship cashier, was forced to surrender the cash and jewelry. The boat owner estimated the plunder at $22,000 in cash and $10,000 in jewelry left by patrons as security.

The Monte Carlo, a former seagoing liner about 400 feet long, is anchored at sea to escape jurisdiction of Long Beach and California anti-gambling laws.

C. C. Collins Breaks Arm as Ladder Falls

C. C. Collins, Hope carpenter, sustained a broken right arm and minor lacerations about the head when a step-ladder fell from beneath him Monday afternoon.

The accident occurred at the home of Mrs. Ralph Routon, where Collins was employed. Mr. Collins was recovering Tuesday at his home, 119 South Fulton street.

Rumor of Illness Is Denied by LaGrone, Jr.

Rumors around town that Robert LaGrone, Jr., was seriously ill at his home suffering from a spider bite were dismissed when The Star called Mr. LaGrone over telephone Tuesday. Mr. LaGrone said he had a small infection on the leg, but nothing serious, and announced that he would return to his business firm Wednesday.

No Change in Tax Rate, But Pledge 7 Mills to Bonds

Refunding Program Would Segregate 7 Out of Total of 18 Mills

RECEIVER IS FEARED

Default on $15,000 Interest and on $15,000 Principal Payments

Voters of the Hope Special School District will go to the polls here Wednesday, July 31, to approve a bond refunding program which is designed to keep the local district (A-1) out of federal court.

No change is proposed in the 18-mill tax rate; but the election has been called to authorize the setting aside of 7 out of the 18 mills for service on the bonded debt.

The Hope School Board explained, when announcing the election date on Tuesday, that heretofore the 18-mill tax was voted in lump sum to be used for any school purpose, whether bond interest or principal, or the meeting of current expenses.

Interest, Principal Past-Due

But the local district has $15,000 past-due interest and $15,000 past-due bond maturities. If a bondholder throws it into federal receivership then the district would face the probability of a federal judge setting aside a certain amount of the annual school revenues to discharge the bonded debt.

The district, so officials pointed out Tuesday, desires to adjust the matter voluntarily. The total bonded debt is $229,972, plus $15,000 past-due interest. The bonds bear 6 and 6 per cent.

Under the refunding offer made to the bondholders by the district the interest rate would be reduced to 4 per cent. The bonds would be dated August 1, 1935, and the first maturity would fall due 30 years later, August 1, 1965. The $15,000 past-due principal payments would be set back along with the rest of the bonds.

Segregate 7 Mills

It is the plan of the district board to apply the 7-mill revenue entirely to current and past-due interest taking care of annual requirements and paying off the $15,000 back-log on interest. This would take three or four years, it is estimated; and after that the district would begin calling in the principal on the bonds with "calls for tender," hoping by offer of early payment to obtain a discount on principal.

A considerable amount of the district bond issue is held by local investors, and most of these have agreed to the refunding plan, it was said Tuesday.

The legal authority to set aside 7 of the 18 mills for debt service only is required, so board officials said, to make the refunding offer attractive to out-of-town bondholders. The proposal will offer such bondholders a lower return on their money—4 per cent instead of 6 or 7 per cent—but at the same time will practically guarantee payment of interest and maturities regularly.

8 Federal Trucks Due at CCC Camp

Supt. Ellen to Have Administrative Staff of 20 to 25 Persons

The expected arrival of eight government trucks from Conway Tuesday night was announced in Hope at noon by R. C. Ellen, superintendent of the Soil Erosion Service CCC camp at Alton, six miles south of the city. (The Star previously reported the superintendent's name to be Horace Ellen, his brother; which was erroneous.)

The trucks will be stationed here permanently, Mr. Ellen said; and indications now are that construction of the local camp will be rushed to completion.

The camp's water well, down 150 feet, is being pushed to place the camp in a position to accomodate the 200 white recruits who are expected to arrive here almost any day. With completion of the well it is believed the Army and Soil Erosion Service might put the boys in tents until the main buildings are completed, which would be a week or so.

Mr. Ellen announced he would have from 20 to 25 persons on the administrative staff, with offices maintained near the camp.

The Soil Erosion Service is to work the CCC recruits during the day, but from nightfall until morning they will be in charge of the Army, First Lieutenant Leo Murphy commanding, with Second Lieutenant Clyde M. Mead assisiting.

Germany to Build 28 Subs This Year

3 Already Launched Under New Treaty With Great Britain

BERLIN, Germany.—(AP)—Germany concentrated her new naval building program Tuesday on submarines—the dread U-boats of the World war—forbidden to Germay since the war by the terms of the Versailles treaty.

A communique based on Germany's new naval agreement with Great Britain disclosed that 28 submarines are provided for in the 1935 naval building program, of which three have already been launched.

Goodrich Enters Plea Not Guilty

Detroit Suspect Repudiates Confession to Child-Slaying

DETROIT, Mich.—(AP)—Morton Ward Goodrich pleaded innocent to the murder of Lillian Gallaher at his arraignment Tuesday in recorder's court.

His plea obviously took the court and crowd of spectators by surprise as Goodrich had previously confessed to slaying the girl.

Agriculture is the main industry of Andorra, tiny nation lying between France and Spain. The location is so ideal for the business of smuggling that this is also an important source of the country's revenue.

Markets

Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS.—(AP)—Better cables brought light buying into the cotton market here and opening prices were one to four points above the previous close.

While Monday's acreage reports had little effect upon the Liverpool market, the English exchange came in better than due and aided sentiment locally.

July sold at 11.93 at the first call, and October, December, January and February all changed hands at the same price of 11.60.

Prices held a narrow range around opening levels during the early trading.

NEW YORK.—(AP) —Cotton futures opened quiet, three points advance to one point lower with near-month steady on trade buying and liquidation in the late positions. July 11.98, October 11.67, December 11.64, January 11.62, March 11.65, May 11.68.

Liverpool was credited with some selling during the early trading but the continent bought and near months held relatively firm with a little more local buying noticeable. October sold up to 11.73 or nine points net higher with the more active months showing net gains of two to nine points at the end of the first hours.

LIVERPOOL.—(AP)—Cotton 400 bales, American nil. Spot in limited demand; prices two points higher; quotations in pence: American strict good middling 7.42; good middling 7.12; strict middling 6.97; middling 6.92; strict low middling 6.82; low middling 6.57; strict good ordinary 6.37; good ordinary 6.07. Futures closed very steady, July 6.56; October 6.23; December 6.14; January 6.13; March 6.12; May 6.10.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON.—Attorney General Homer Cummings threw the last shovel of dirt on the grave of NRA.

Administrator James O'Neill of NRA members of the Federal Trade Commission, and Cummings were called to the White House for a conference on voluntary trade agreement policies.

O'Neill and FTC members had agreed that when industries came with proposed agreements the FTC would approve them only if they contained labor standards, covering minimum wages and maximum hours. FTC was to have handled the fair trade practice sections of the voluntary codes. NRA the labor end.

But when the conference took up the question of labor provisions, Cummings put down his foot.

"Nothing doing," quoth he. "We would only be running into a mare's nest."

Others soon agreed with Cummings that requirement of labor provisions would be only a bid for trouble. And thus flew away the last vestige of the NRA idea, leaving NRA nothing to do but ruminate among statistics and the records of its past glory.

Farm "Gobbling" Goes On

Those who thought farm mortgage foreclosures had ended with arrival of AAA and the Farm Credit Administration may have to revise their opinion to the mere assertion that there would have been far more foreclosures if those agencies hadn't appeared.

Despite moratoria and higher farm prices, banks, lif insurance companies, and mortgage companies continue to gobble large parcels of independently owned farm land.

Government figures aren't up to date, but they show an increase of

(Continued on page six)

A. & P. Co. Takes Judgment Appeal

Takes 2 Local Damage Verdicts to State Supreme Court

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP) —The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. filed an appeal in the Arkansas Supreme Court Tuesday from a Hempstead circuit court verdict awarding $1,500 damages to Norma Jean Gwilliams, 3.

The suit charged that she was made seriously ill by eating alleged contaminated cheese purchased in the company's Hope store.

The same company also appealed a second case from the Hempstead court in which Bobby Joyce Gwilliams was awarded $1,500 on similar accusations.

Hope Star

O Justice, Deliver Thy Herald From False Report!

Published every week-day afternoon by Star Publishing Co., Inc. (J. E. Palmer & Alex. H. Washburn), at The Star building, 212-214 South Walnut street, Hope, Arkansas.

C. E. PALMER, President
ALEX. H. WASHBURN, Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Hope, Arkansas Under the Act of March 3, 1897.

Definition: "The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, through widely circulated advertisements, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."—Col. R. R. McCormick.

Subscription Rate (Always Payable in Advance): By city carrier, per week 10c; six months $2.75; one year $5.00. By mail, in Hempsteda, Nevada, Howard, Miller and LaFayette counties, $3.50 per year; elsewhere $5.00.

Member of The Associated Press: The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

National Advertising Representatives: Arkansas Dailies, Inc., Memphis, Tenn., Sterick Bldg.; New York City, 369 Lexington; Chicago, Ill., 75 E. Wacker, Drive; Detroit, Mich., 7338 Woodward Ave.; St. Louis, Mo., Star Bldg.

Charges on Tributes, Etc.: Charges will be made for all tributes, cards of thanks, resolutions, or memorials, concerning the departed. Commercial newspapers hold to this policy in the news columns to protect their readers from a deluge of space-taking memorials. The Star disclaims responsibility for the safe-keeping or return of any unsolicited manuscripts.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

Let Husband Have His Beef and Cabbage.

You may turn up your nose at the suggestion of having corned beef and cabbage as the main dish at a formal dinner party, but never hesitate to prepare this dish for your husband whenever he wants it.

Boiled cabbage, experiments show, is of great value in the liet. The cost is not great, and the food value is considerable. And that goes for boiled carrots, too. Both serve, also, as a source of roughage.

Of course, the experiments with boiled cabbage brought out the fact that this vegetable loses about 80 per cent of its vitamin C. But it still retains practically all of its vitamin A.

This point was brought out in a test in which one group of animals got fresh cabbage, another group got boiled cabbage, and a third got cod liver oil. It was found that the animals getting boiled, and those getting fresh cabbage, grew in just about the same way.

This applies also to carrots in which the vitamin A is considerable in amount and is not affected by boiling. The vitamin A in these two vegetables, whether fresh or boiled, is greater than that of ordinary cow's milk, but less than that to be found in butter.

Raw cabbage and raw spinach rank with orange and lemon juice and with tomatoes as among the richest sources of vitamin C. However, it is fairly well established that cabbage is not a good source for vitamin C when boiled.

Ordinarily cabbage also provides 1.4 per cent of its weight as protein, .2 per cent as fat, and 5.3 per cent as carbohydrate. The fuel value of cabbage per pound is 130 calories.

A BOOK A DAY

By BRUCE CATTON

Sees Key to Future in America's Hands—H. G. Wells Grows Dubious About Our Leadership

That perennial prophet of a world state, England's H. G. Wells, has been looking at the future through a glass darkly, and he is not entirely hopeful over what he has been seeing.

In his newest book, a slender affair entitled "The New America—the New World," he sees America as the one country which can lead the world out of its tragic confusion by the force of example; and he is beginning to be afraid that America may not be equal to the job.

All mankind, says Mr. Wells, is at the mercy of a race now going on between approaching world catastrophe and the power of human intelligence to cope with its problems. We can either devise some sort of world civilization which will deal effectively with the peril of war, the evils of underconsumption and the various currency problems, he says, or we can all enter into a long, painful and violent decadence.

A year ago he believed that our New Deal was paving the way for a successful conclusion to this dilemma. Now he is not so sure. He finds Mr. Roosevelt uncertain because the country as a whole is uncertain, and the most discouraging thing about contemporary America is, to him, the lack of a constructive and intelligent opposition program.

"If America," he concludes, "does not go high and resolute and proud, consciously taking the leadership of mankind in the realization of a new way of living, she will go low and she will drag the world down with her."

Published by Macmillan, this booklet is priced at $1.

They're Not Speaking Now

Sue—"I refused to marry Harry two months ago and he has been hitting up the booze ever since."

Kate—"Well, I calls that carrying a celebration too far."—Florida Times-Union.

The possessions of France consist mainly of small islands in the Atlantic, Pacific, and Indian oceans, with continental territories in Africa, South America, and Asia.

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

Parents Ought to Settle Responsibility for Child.

"Mother, may I go swimmin'? All the kids are going."

"I don't know just what to say, Charles. I have reaed so much about the danger of pools and children getting germs from the water, I am afraid."

"Well, what've they got pools for if they ain't safe for people? They've filled that big one in the park and there's life-guards there and policemen and everything. It looks as clean as the water right in our own bathtub."

"Yes, it does seem all right. The city wouldn't take any chances on health, I guess. They either chlorinate it or keep changing the water."

"Then I can go?"

"Well—yes, I guess so. But be very careful, and try not to get water in your nose and mouth. I wouldn't dive."

Next day it was something else. "Mother, can I go on a hike with the fellows? We'll take our bikes and some lunch."

"I don't like little boys going off by themselves on long trips. Where were you thinking of going?"

"Over to Miller's Mills. It's just a little piece."

A Successful Plea

"I think it is too hot and sunny. You have a big hill to go over and there isn't a bit of shade there. You'll have to push your wheel almost a mile."

"Shucks that ain—isn't anything. We're strong. And it's shady when you get there. Oh, come on, Mom, let me go. I only need some sandwiches. And can I have a dime for a bottle of pop? Oh, goody. I knew you would let me. You're the nicest mother ever. Don't worry. I'll be all right."

And that was all right too, because Charles came home tired as a dog and a bit upset amidships but otherwise sound. He also returned little the worse for wear next day after a ride on a truck out to Billing's Corners and back with Jeb Shane, who was delivering ice. No ice fell on Charles' toes, he didn't get into poison ivy, the truck didn't turn over at the bad bend and Charles came in safe at five o'clock.

Each day it appeared Charles was after permission to do things just over the line o fabsolute safety and except for a cut toe and some blisters on his arms he escaped any serious results. Then one day right in front of his own house he was hit by a car. He was up and about in a week, but in that week his father had plenty of time to blame the boy's mother for not keeping her eye on him.

A Constant Problems

This is one of the greatest problems of all motherhood. During the day, naturally venturesome children have no one to ask but their mothers. The mother has to use her best judgment. She reasons that you can't deprive a growing boy, or girl either, of all experience in this uncertain world, and that the more they are protected the less they will know of avoiding danger and managing their bodies.

If she consents, it is not because she is unaware of danger, but because she senses the driving need of some adventure. As a rule fathers are anxious for their sons to be able to take care of themselves. In truth, they will take the apprehensive child in hand from sheer exasperation and try to force him to show courage.

Better by far for parents to have an understanding in the matter and draw mutual lines and agree to certain privilege, as far as it is possible to do so. It would be a relief to mothers. Otherwise, when they do the best they can, it is hardly fair to put all the blame on them.

In the Land of Heather

An Englishman was invited to his Scots friend's home for Christmas dinner.

As the guests were seated round the table the host enterd with a steaming plum-pudding.

The Englishman turned to the host's daughter.

"They do say," he said smilingly, "that the one who finds the three-penny-piece in their portion of pudding will be lucky."

"Ay, and clever, too," put the host from the top of the table. — Answers (London).

Telgraph and telephone wires strung along the highways of the country weigh only 208 pounds to the mile.

The Not-So-Jolly Millers

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alicia Hart

Pretty Teeth Are Beauty Essentials

The kind of care you give your teeth has a great deal to do not only with their appearance but the number of years you will have them. Any woman who values her beauty and wants to be attractive all her life should consider brushing her teeth and semi-annual visits to the dentist even more important thon routines to keep skin and hair lovely.

You should use a toothbrush twice a day, of course, and you ought to learn how to dit correctly. Scrubbing cross wise is all wrong as this method prevents the bristles from getting into cracks and crevices where food collects. Also, it's harmful to the gums. Brush either up and down or with rotary motions and keep on brushing for at least five minutes. Select your dentifrice for its efficiency and not merrly because you like the taste of it. However, it's quite possible to find one that actually cleans and at the same time leaves no unpleasant taste in your mouth.

Putting your brush on gums directly above the first section of teeth to be brushed, make rapid, downward strokes, pressing gently so the bristles get in between the teeth. When you have finished, brush the outside of the lower ones with upward strokes, then repeat on the inside of uppers and lowers. Gums need to be massaged gently with the brush, but you must be careful not to push them upward or downward away from the teeth.

Have real faith in your dentist. If he thinks you should visit him oftener than twice a year, by all means do it. If he prescribes a special mouthwash to harden your gums, be sure to use it regularly.

Don't use your teeth to crack nuts and hard candy. On the other hand, see that your diet contains some hard, chewy food that makes them do a little work.

NEXT: Beauty notes from the theater.

STANDINGS

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION

Clubs—	W.	L.	Pct.
Atlanta	51	33	.607
Memphis	47	34	.580
New Orleans	44	37	.543
Nashville	43	40	.518
Chattanooga	40	41	.494
Little Rock	35	42	.455
Birmingham	33	50	.398
Knoxville	32	48	.400

Monday's Results

Little Rock 16, Birmingham 4.
Knoxville 6, Nashville 2.
Only games scheduled.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Clubs—	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	48	21	.696
St. Louis	42	29	.592
Chicago	40	32	.556
Pittsburgh	41	34	.457
Brooklyn	33	37	.471
Philadelphia	31	40	.437
Cincinnati	31	42	.425
Boston	21	52	.288

Monday's Results

All-star game Cleveland.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Clubs—	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	45	26	.634
Detroit	46	29	.613
Chicago	38	29	.567
Cleveland	38	33	.535
Boston	38	35	.521
Philadelphia	29	39	.426
Washington	30	42	.417
St. Louis	19	50	.275

Monday's Results

All-star game Cleveland.

Willisville

Mrs. Ben Warren and children of Lambertine, spent a few days with relatives her, last week.

Most everyone from this place attended the singing convention at Laneburg Sunday.

Frank B. Jones of Shreveport, La., and two young men from Laneburg wer guests of J. B. Silvey and family Saturday night. They also visited Mr. Jones' niece, Mrs. Pascal Simpson and Mr. Simpson a while Sunday morning.

There will be an all day singing at Hollp Springs, Sunday July 14. Every body come and bring your song book and lunch.

Paul Frank of this place and Miss Lena Neal of Glenville were married Saturday night, June 21. We all wish them a long and happy life.

Miss Lorene Martin of Little Rock spent the past tow weks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Martin.

Ben Warren of Hope visited Mr. and Mrs. Pascal Simpson Saturday night.

SUN-TAN

By NARD JONES

© 1935 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JO DARIEN, preparing to return home after her first year in college, receives a letter telling her that her father is out of work. Jo decides to hunt for a job instead of going home. She confides this to her roommate, TUBBY DAVIS, who is sympathetic.

Later Jo meets BRET PAUL, star athlete to whom Jo is engaged. Bret has a job as life guard for the summer. Jo tells him she can not return to school in the fall. This means that, for a year at least, the two will be separated.

Bret assures her, "Nothing can happen in a year to make any difference between us."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER II

JO did not realize until afterward that she and Bret had walked for hours along the campus paths that night. They had walked for the most part in silence, for there were no words adequate to express their feelings. Both had looked forward to this last night together, and they had planned to use it for arranging that magic week at Placid Beach. Neither had talked very much about the proposed days together at the beach resort, for they were saving it as something to take away the hurt of leaving each other on this last week of school. Although Bret would have life guard duties at Placid Beach, they had planned mornings together, dreaming on the white sands; and they would have had the evenings, dancing to the rhythms of the best orchestra in the whole state.

But, suddenly, that magic week in midsummer was gone. If Jo found a job she would be unlikely to get time off very soon—and even if she were successful in obtaining a week's leave she couldn't afford Placid Beach.

So she walked beside the silent Bret, wishing they could forget Placid Beach; wishing, indeed, they had never planned to be together there. Once or twice she attempted some gay, irrelevant comment calculated to stir their moods into something lighter—but it was no use. Her mind was too filled with conflicting thoughts, with half-formed plans for tomorrow, with a haunting regret at leaving Bret Paul and this pleasant campus so finally.

And even after their long walk, and she had left Bret with the promise she would see him before he left for Placid Beach, she could not sleep. She tossed fitfully all through the night, and once Tubby came anxiously to the side of Jo's bed to ask if she were ill.

• • •

THE alarm clock which Jo had set for 6:30 never had the chance to get in its insistent signal, for shortly after six she reached out and pressed the little lever down to "silent." A moment later she arose wearily and sought the shower. The frigid needles of spray revived her somewhat, and by the time she had donned her jaunty tweed suit, blue hat, and a pair of sensible brogues, she felt more ready to do battle with the world.

Jo's eyes told how glad she was that Bret had come.

Just how to go about attacking the world—which happened to be extremely lethargic at that hour of the morning—Jo Darien had not the slightest idea. "I suppose," she thought, "that you buy a paper and look at the 'want ads.'"

She remembered suddenly that this would be the last day the sorority house would be open. She would have to find a new abode, and after a moment's study she remembered the Fendale apartments. Jo and her mother had stayed there on previous visits from Weston. The kitchenet apartments were small, but reasonable. Hastily Jo grabbed a pencil and scribbled a note for Tubby:

"Please have my trunk and bags sent to the Fendale apartments, and I'll expect a visit from you before you finally get packed and out of town! I'm off after that job. Wish me luck!—Jo."

After a last look in the mirror she hurried out of the house and down toward the University Inn There, over a meager breakfast of orange juice, toast and coffee, she scanned the newspaper columns headed "Help Wanted: Female." Borrowing a pencil from the sleepy eyed young man behind the counter she marked the advertisements which seemed within the realm of possibility, and in another five minutes she was on a street car headed down town.

• • •

BUT at noon she sat at another counter, in a section of the city wholly unfamiliar to her; and she had to confess that most of her jauntiness was gone. Her troubled, sleepless night was beginning to tell on her a little; but what had really taken the wind from her sails was the variety of reasons she had heard as to why Jo Darien shouldn't be hired.

"You have no experience in this type of work."

"We don't like college girls; they think they know too much."

"The boss likes all the girls to be brunets, not blonds."

"We've just hired all we need."

And those were only a few of the reasons she'd heard. At one place the trouble had been that Jo was too pretty. "A good-looking girl doesn't attend to business," the manager of the place had told her, looking at Jo appreciatively.

"I assure you I'm no flirt," said Jo.

"That may be, Miss Darien. But a lot of males are—and that's where the trouble comes in."

And that afternoon she encountered once again all the objections of the morning, with a few new ones thrown in for good measure. At 4 o'clock, her list and her patience utterly exhausted, she climbed into a taxi and gave the driver the address of the Fendale. A taxi was a luxury she should have avoided now, and Jo realized this without caring. She was too tired to care. In the shortest possible time she selected a tiny rear apartment and paid a week's rent in advance.

"Your baggage came this morning, Miss Darien," the manager told her. "Do you want it sent up now?"

"Not now, thank you. I'll telephone down."

Once inside the dark and unattractive little room that was now her home, Jo pulled down the folding bed from behind its hiding place, and slept. She slept as a woman dead until almost 8 o'clock, and she would have slept beyond that if the ringing of the room telephone hadn't awakened her.

It was Tubby, on the desk telephone downstairs.

"How about a movie?" she asked.

"Oh, Tubby . . . I'm too tired. Besides, I haven't yet eaten."

"Just stay there then," said Tubby, "and I'll scare up a lunch and bring it up. I imagine you're all in."

"That's not half strong enough for it, Tubby. Just bring me a sandwich."

• • •

BUT a sandwich had never been Tubby's idea of a lunch. When she arrived at Jo's door she had two large paper bags containing not just a sandwich but several sandwiches in many varieties. Not to mention a jar of mayonnaise, a bottle of milk, and some assorted French pastries which had suffered a little in Tubby's strong arms.

"Tubby, you're a darling! But why did you bring so much?"

Her roommate giggled. "That's not all I brought, either." She moved toward the door again.

"Not all!" exclaimed Jo; and then, as Tubby reopened the door, "Bret! Oh, Bret, what a sight I am!"

"A mighty pretty sight, if you ask me!" Bret told her. "Tubby told me you were going to have a housewarming, and I just had to be here."

Jo's eyes told him how glad she was that he had come.

"Did you find a job, Jo?" he asked hopefully.

"I found heaps of them — but none were for me."

"Don't worry," Bret assured her. "You never find anything the first day." He reached into his pocket and pulled out a recent edition of a newspaper open at the "Help Wanted" section. "I happened to see this on the way down in the street car, Jo. It says: 'Wanted—Personable young woman to work mornings only as bookkeeper in marine supply house.'"

Bret held the paper toward Jo. "It gives the address, and if I were you I'd go down there tomorrow and try for it. Of course it's only half-time — but it would help you keep your chin up, and you'd have the afternoons free to look for something better."

Jo read the advertisement, then glanced up at Tubby and Jo. Just their presence there gave her new courage and renewed faith in herself.

"That's my job!" she said, laughing. "What do you bet?"

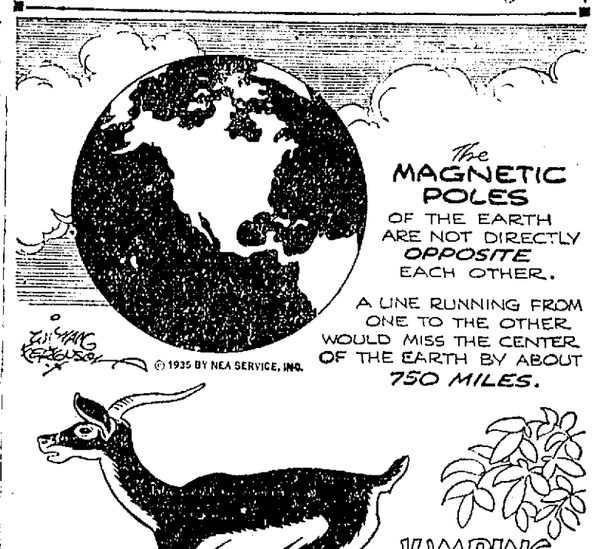

"Well . . ." Bret took up one of the sandwiches, peered critically between the slices of bread. "I think you'd probably win the bet. But some times you have to look around a week or so before you can get anything at all. Believe me, I know what I'm talking about."

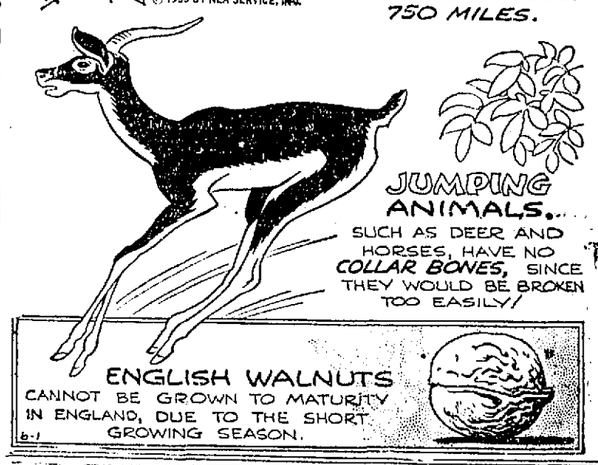

"Just the same," said Jo, opening the refectory table vigorously, "I have a feeling that tomorrow I'm going to be a bookkeeper in a marine supply store!"

(To Be Continued)

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

ENGLISH WALNUTS CANNOT BE GROWN TO MATURITY IN ENGLAND, DUE TO THE SHORT GROWING SEASON.

6-1

Today's Pattern

COOL, yet not too plain, the ruffle sleeves and revers make this a pertly attractive dress. Make it of percale or gingham. Patterns are available in sizes 14 to 20 and 32 to 42. Size 16 requires 4 1-4 yards of 35-inch fabric and 7-8 yard contrast.

To secure a PATTERN and STEP-BY-STEP SEWING INSTRUCTIONS, fill out the coupon below, being sure to MENTION THE NAME OF THIS NEWSPAPER.

The SUMMER PATTERN BOOK, with a complete selection of Julia Boyd designs, now is ready. It's 15 cents when purchased separately. Or, if you want to order it with the pattern above, send in just an additional 10 cents with the coupon.

JULIA BOYD, 103 PARK AVENUE, NEW YORK

Enclosed is 15 cents in coin for

Pattern No. Size

Name Address

City State

Name of this newspaper

Society

Mrs. Sid Henry Telephone 821

On the State Highway

Every day from my window high,
I view the stret as the cars go by;
Fast through it runs like a ribbon white,
The State Highway; and day and night
An endless stream the motors go,
Fast and slow—to and fro—
Though why and where I cannot know.
Some are lowly and small to see,
Some are fine and of high degree,
Many are trucks with a heavy load,
Passenger vans on the up-hill road;
On they go—to and fro—
Through rain or sunshine, mist or snow.
Who are the folk that within them ride,
Traveling fast from far and wide?
Some on business or pleasure bent;
Sometimes on urgent message sent.
Fireflies bright, they seem at night,
As on they go with their gleaming light.
Birds of passage are they in truth,
Man and woman, child and youth.
So they travel this great highway,
Rolling along by night and day,
"Many shall go—to and fro"
Foretold by the prophet—'tis even so.
—Selcted.

Mrs. Ed Warren who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. Q. Warren for the past few days left Tuesday for her home in Post, Texas.

In these disturbed times of stress and excessive heat, when everything seems sordid and wilted, and ones hops and spirits are at a low ebb, and we have lost the buoyancy of the spring and 'Tis possible, we've grown inclined to gaze at splendors, partly blind, and think as duties stern we face the world is dull and commonplace" and we wonder if things are just the same, and if there is still inspiration to be found, get in your car and drive over town and view the many, many beautiful crepe myrtels that are now adorning our yards and highways, and the lovely ones at the different filling stations, that have been placed there for the tired eyes of the traveler and the strange passing through, and take heart, and know that the wonderful all-wise distributor of beauty is still with us, and whether hot or cold if one will only look around, myracles can still be found.

Miss Ruth Dickinson is spending the wek with relatives and friends in Pittsburg, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Briant left last week for Denver, Colo., where they will spend the summer.

In celebration of their birthday anniversaries, which fall on the 8th and 9th of July, respectively, Misses Mary Haynes and Sarah Ann Holland entertained at a progressive party on Monday evning. About 40 of their young friends responded to the invitation, and were received at the home of Miss Haynes on West Second street, after a series of pleasant games, adjournment was made to the home of Miss Holland on North Pine street where delightful refreshments were served at the home of Miss Haynes. The young ladies were assisted in caring for their guests by their mothers, Mrs. Chas. Haynes and Mrs. Kate Holland.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dickinson who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Dickinson have returned to their home in Pittsburg, Texas.

Mrs. J. C. Carlton will present Katherine Sterling and Doris Shields in the following program, the second of a series of morning musicales, in the home of Mrs. Sterling West Fourth street, Wednesday morning at 9:30. (a) Swaying Trees, Spaulding, (b) Narcissus, Slater, by Katherine Sterling. Spring, Bauman, by Doris Shields. Piano Duet, Morning Prayer, Streabbog, by Mrs. Carlton and Katherine Sterling. Dancing on the Lawn (Caprice), Reed, by Doris Shields. Andante, Mozart, by Katherine Sterling. Chinatown, Rogers, by Doris Shields. The Haunt of the Fairies, Crosby, by Katherine Sterling. Meadow Lark, Martin, by Doris Shields. Harmonica solo, Old Black Joe, by Boyce Sterling.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Russell, Misses Jack Porter and Maud Lipscomb left Sunday for a trip to points in Texas.

Miss Anna Dell Reynolds who has been the guest of Miss Lucille Porter left Saturday for her home in Little Rock.

Miss Edna Mae Baker has returned home from a month's visit with her father, T. N. Baker, in North Little Rock.

Miss Rosalyn Morgan has returned from a visit with relatives in Little Rock.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deepest appreciation and thanks for the kindness shown and for the many beautiful floral offerings during our bereavement and loss of our beloved one.
Monza Valentine
Herman Valentine
Mrs. Josie Floyd
Mrs. Hollace Bain, Jr.

Home Clubs

Old Liberty

The Old Liberty Home Demonstration club met at the home of Mrs. E. R. Calhoon, Friday, July 21, 1935. The meeting was called to order by the president.

Twelve members answered the roll call. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. After singing our club song, Mrs. Chester Rosenbaum gave the devotional with Miss Griffin leading in prayer. The club chose canning as their goal. Reports from different leaders were given.

Miss Griffin gave a very intersting demonstration on salad making which was enjoyed by all present.

After a short recreational period the club adjourned to met with Mrs. Clarence Gilbert, the next fourth Friday afternoon

Allen.

The Allen home demonstration club met July 5th at the community house, with 19 members present. The president called the meeting to order, the secretary read the minutes of the last meeting.

Mrs. Webb Laseter gave the devotional. The report of the leaders was given with a splendid report from the food preservation leader.

The club had 14 members to attend the council meeting at Guernesy July 3rd and two contestants in the house dress contest, one winning third place.

Miss Griffin gave a very interesting demonstration on rebottoming a chair, with many of the women helping.

Punch was served during the recreation hour. The next meeting will be a picnic held at the community house August 7th at 4 p. m.

Skirting the Law Banning Shorts

In Yonkers, N. Y., shorts are a short cut to jail, so the good Yonkers Ferry has come to the aid of beauties distressed by the prospect of having to wear skirts for their holiday hikes. Presto, a skirt-checking service was established for those who cross the Hudson by boat to go hiking on the opposite New Jersey shore. Joan Christy and May Chadwick seem to enjoy giving the law the ferry slip.

Gulf Issues New Economy Booklet

"15 Ways to Save Gasoline Money" Offered Free at Orange Disc

"It has been my contention for years that car owners spend too much money for gasoline," stated Dr. Paul D. Foote, executive vice-president of the Gulf Research and Development corporation. "So we decided to do something about it.

"The result is the booklet, '15 Ways to Save Gasoline Money.' It might seem a simple matter to prepare the data. It wasn't. I had six of my officials in the research division of the Gulf Refining company scratching their pens and their heads for days and weeks. Probably 40 or 50 various ways of saving gasoline were proffered and discussed. Some of the methods depended on isolated conditions. Some of the methods were eligible to questio. All these were eliminated.

"In the form in which it is being offered to motorists at Gulf service stations today, the booklet is really fool-proof. It contains 15 simple yet effective ways to save gasoline money. A number of them, such as the parking hint, are logical little tricks which the motorist can observe by himself. Others, such as the proper inflation of tires, can be secured at Gulf service stations free of charge. And the rest, such as the part played by carburetion, depend upon competent attention by expert mechanics.

"It may seem amazing that a refiner of peroleum products should assume the responsibility of advising motorists how to save gasoline, and consequently buy less gasoline. Yet Gulf's reasoning is, or should be, obvious. Motorists will buy less gasoline, if they observe the hints given in the booklet, '15 Ways to Save Gasoline Money.' But they will appreciate the service rendered by the Gulf Refining company, and more of them will drive into our stations under the Sign of the Orange Disc.

"Frankly, I am rather proud of the part played by the Gulf Research and Development corporation in preparing and publishing this long-needed booklet."

Tokio

We are needing a rain very badly in this part of the county at this writing.

Miss Inez Reaves and John Taylor were married Friday night

Quite a few from here attended the singing at Belton Sunday.

The Elberta peach harvest will start about July 10.

Harry Stuart of Dierks visited his aunt, Mrs Bon Cooley here Sunday.

W. H Harris of Bingen was a business visitor hre Saturday.

Mrs. John D. Baker of Bingen spent the day Saturday with her sister, Mrs. R. A. Sanford.

J. R. Cooley spent Saturday night with friends in Nashville.

L. G. Thompson of Bingen was a Tokio visitor Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Early Theobolt of Dierks visited Mr. and Mrs. Tompie Warren Sunday.

A. C. Holt was a business visitor to Nashville, Saturday.

Mr and Mrs. Dee Chism was in Nashville Saturday on business.

Kester Steuart was a business visitor to Nashville Saturday

R. A. Cooley was in Highland Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Gaston of Camden visited relatives here Sunday.

Democracy tends to demoralize people, to make them selfish, to think of their own interests and not of the community's.—The Rt. Rev. Lord William Gascoyne-Cecil, bishop of Exeter, England.

There is in our churches generally in this country a most complete, and spiritually a most disastrous, absence of congregational singing.—Bishop William T. Manning of New York.

It is always unpopular to say "No," while the "Yes" man is the one who is loved.—Harold L. Ickes, secretary of interior.

It is absurd to call the president's tax program a share-the-wealth program. It is, in fact, nothing more than a share-the-burden-of-government program.—Senator Borah of Idaho.

An African native in good physical condition, can run down a swift land antelope, although the chase may extend 30 miles.

Sara Ruth Dean Is Given Full Pardon

Governor Conner Says He Obtained New and Secret Information

JACKSON, Miss.—(AP)—Gov. Sennett Conner Monday issued a complete pardon to Dr. Sara Ruth Dean, comely woman physician of Greenwood, who was under a life sentence for the alleged "poison whisky highball" death of Dr. John Preston Kennedy.

"I have had the benefit of information not available to the courts either in the original trial or on appeal," the governor said.

Dr. Dean was convicted in Greenwood March 3, 1934 on a charge of having placed poison in a highball she handed Dr. Kennedy, her former clinical associate, at a farewell tryst.

The state contended that Dr. Dean gave the physician, whom she admitted loving previously, the lethal dose because he had planned to re-wed his divorced wife, Mrs. Bessie Barry Kennedy.

Dr. Dean denied having had the alleged midnight meeting with Dr. Kennedy and said she had broken her engagement with Dr. Kennedy to marry another man.

The state Supreme Court, by a 3-3 tie decision, had affirmed the lower court conviction. A majority vote is required to reverse a decision.

Lawyers for Dr. Dean then applied to Governor Conner for a pardon and the governor, while considering the case, granted her a 30-day reprieve which was scheduled to end Monday night.

Here's New Strength For Weak Men And Women

Make You Feel and Act Years Younger

Thousands of men and women with their youth behind them are finding the strain of modern life and work too exhausting—their energy gone—their vitality at a low ebb.

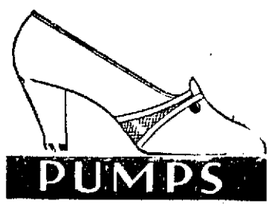

Is it surprising that doctors tell them to ease up—to give their tired nerves and bodies a chance to build up new strength and energy.

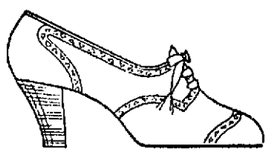

What you need is quick acting Clements tonic that makes new rich red blood and sends it coursing thru your veins carrying new strength—steadying nerves—stimulating appetite and bringing old time energy back—you'll sleep soundly.

Try Clements' Tonic for 3 days (2 tablets 3 times a day with meals). You can get it at Ward & Sons with the clear understanding that you must get real results or money back. —adv.

FINAL REDUCTION

Robison's
Entire Stock of
WHITE SHOES
GO ON SALE
Wednesday Morning at 8:30

PUMPS

TIES

STRAPS

This is the BIG White Shoe Sale you have been waiting for—a yearly event but better than ever this year because it comes just in the middle of the white shoe season.

Every white shoe in our stock is included in this sale—nothing is held back. Every one of these shoes are NEW—SMART—RIGHT. Hurry, get here early for the best selections. They're sure to go fast at these low prices.

Every $1.98 and $2.48 White Shoe in our stock Goes on Sale Wednesday for $1.00

Every $2.98 and $3.98 White Shoe in our stock Goes on Sale Wednesday for $2.00

Every SELBY and FOOT FASHION White Shoe in our Stock Will Be Sold for (These Shoes Sold up to $5.50) $3.00

Sizes 3½ to 9—AAA to C. Med. and High Heels

Every Sale Final—No Lay-A-Ways, Exchanges, Phone Orders

Our Entire Stock of Men's White Shoes ALSO Drastically Reduced

See These Shoes DISPLAYED In Our Windows

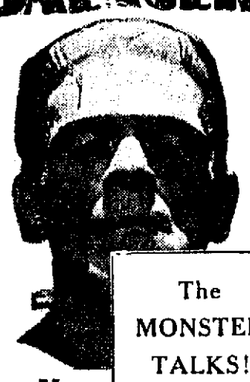

THE LEADING DEPARTMENT STORE

Geo. W. Robison & Co.
HOPE PRESCOTT NASHVILLE

PIANO TUNING
All work guaranteed
No Charge
for estimation
Claude Taylor
at Boswell's Bargain House

Smartly Styled
Wash Dresses
98c
Latest Colors and Patterns.
Ladies Specialty Shop
"Exclusive But Not Expensive"

Here' the second big hit of the week at the cool—
SAENGER

NOW
The MONSTER TALKS!
Now he wants a mate!
—or death to the scientist who created him!
SEE KARLOFF
in the super-shocker of the year!
"The BRIDE of FRANKENSTEIN"
Plus
Shirley is Coming!
Chas. Chase Comedy "Poker at 8" Novelty

Old Shoes Made New
—at—
Parson's Shoe Shop
111 South Main
Phone 667
We call for and deliver.

HOUSEWIVES—LOOK!
We can offer you the most complete line of FRESH Groceries in the city.
THE TOURIST GROCERY
B. C. Hollis, Prop.
Phone 722 Highway 67

COMPLETE SERVICE FACILITIES
ALL TOGETHER
at Third and L. & A. Tracks
Mobile Service Station
Complete Lubrication
Tires Repaired 50c
Called for and Delivered
REED'S GARAGE
(F. M. Reed, Prop.)
Complete Repairing & Rebuilding
New Parts and Accessories
Unique Coffee Shop
(P. A. Dulin, Jr., Prop.)
Cold Plate Lunch and Beer 35c
PHONE 68

WHEN YOU NEED AN EXCUSE TO STAY A LITTLE LONGER

I'm your best friend
I am your Lucky Strike

IT'S THE TOBACCO THAT COUNTS
There are no finer tobaccos than those used in Luckies

Copyright 1935, The American Tobacco Company.

Valuable Larva

HORIZONTAL

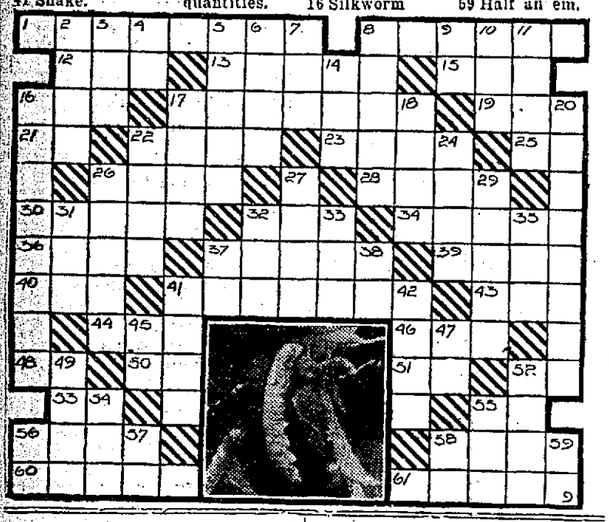

1 Moth larva raised in quantities for industry.
8 Its —— is composed of strong silk.
12 Dove's cry.
13 To agitate.
15 Small child.
16 To nod.
17 Portable steps.
19 Brink.
21 Upon.
22 Wan.
23 Golf devices.
25 Chaos.
26 Nothing more than.
28 Chair.
30 To shed blood.
32 Lawyer's charge.
34 To rub hard.
36 12 months.
37 Strainer.
39 Air toy.
40 Food container.
41 Snake.
43 By.
44 Spigot.
46 Beer.
48 Doctor.
50 To accomplish.
51 Therefore.
52 Per.
53 Above.
55 Nay.
56 Portico.
58 Female horse.
60 This larva is native of ——.
61 —— raises the worm in huge quantities.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

L	A	W	R	E	N	C	E		H	O	N	O	R	S
	L	E	A		W	O	R	S	E		A	R	A
U	L	T	R	A		N	I	T		T	R	A	M	P
N		S	E	N	D		N		O	E	L		S
C	R		R	I	O	T		S	A	N	S		S	E
R	I	M		L	O	O	S	E					N	U
O	M	E	R		M	U	T	E		C	O	L	O	N
W	A	T	E	R		R	E	D		L	A	W	R	E
N		A	N	E	W		T							N
E	L		D	E	A	D		R						M
D	I	P		D	I	A	L	E	C	T		B	A	M
	A	R	E		T	R	A	P	A		S	A	G
P	R	O	M	I	S	E	D		R	E	P	A	I	R

VERTICAL

2 Portrait statue.
3 Opposite of high.
4 Measure.
5 Pope's scarf.
6 Drove.
7 Mire.
8 Goddess of vegetation.
9 Court.
10 Rowing device.
11 Supreme Norse god.
14 To harden.
16 Silkworm moth.
17 Fat.
18 Observes.
20 The larva feeds on —— leaves.
22 Nobleman.
24 Bag.
26 Intended.
27 Profound.
29 Part of an ox's stomach.
31 Meadow.
32 Pine tree.
33 Night before.
35 Indian.
37 Southeast.
38 Type measure.
41 Stain.
42 Stint.
45 Publicity.
47 Behold.
49 Remorse.
52 Northeast wind.
54 Taro paste.
55 To doze.
56 South Carolina.
57 Form of "a."
58 Mother.
59 Half an em.

Blevins

Mrs. Henry Austin visited her daughter Mrs. E. M. Bonds and Mr. Bonds last week.

Mrs. C. A. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Nelson and daughter, Miss Nell Rose Nelson, all of Shreveport, visited relatives in Blevins Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom J. Stewart and son Dwight spent Sunday at Pleasant Hill attending church.

Miss Letha Beth McDougald of the Sweet Home community is this weeks' guest of her sister Mrs. Mont Harris.

Miss Ethel Bruce is spending tre summer with her father J. J. Bruce.

Dr. and Mrs. R. R. Robins were Friday visitors in Ozan.

Tom Shackelford was a business visitor in Hope Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Yates and Mrs. M. D. Yates were shopping in Hope Saturday.

Miss Mary Sue Sage is spending this week with Miss Susanne Sage.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jordan of Rosboro were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lige Stephens.

Robert Shackelford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shackelford, who is in the Cora Donnel hospital is reported to be improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bailey and children left Friday for Houston, Tex., where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Leverett and sons Lloyd and Floyd left Thursday for Jackson, Tenn., to visit Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Leverett.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Freyberger were shopping in Hope Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Beauchamp and son of Texarkana were guests of Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Beauchamp Thursday of last week.

The Dunlap cantaloupe shed burned Saturday night. The origin of the fire is not known.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wade, Miss Dorothy Fae Wade and Mrs. W. E. Austin were shopping in Hope Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Brown of Hope, Miss Cleta Lawrence, Mr. Roy Lawrence both of Commerce, Texas, were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Nelson.

Mrs. Mildred Hemphill of Houston, Texas, was the last weeks guest of her mother Mrs. Lon Bailey.

Rev. W. C. Yancy and Mr. H. E. Lowe both of Shreveport were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Douthet of Bodcaw were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Stephens.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Yancy, Sr., of Bodcaw, were Sunday guests of Judge and Mrs. Stephens.

Well Qualified

A bulky, bearded man came unannounced into the office of the gentle scholar who is headmaster of one of the best preparatory schools in Massachusetts. He lost no time in formalities, but announced, in a deep, terrifying voice, "I wish to teach in your school. I am a Rooshan, but I am interested in all literatures—Rooshan, and Spaneesh, and French, and Engleesh." He paused impressively and tapped the stupefied Head on the knee. "And," he added, "I can chin myself with one arm."—New Yorker.

Too Bad

"My husband has taken all the cash out of baby's money-box."

"My dear!"

"Yes, and just when there was nearly enough for the new hat I wanted."—Christian Science Monitor.

Sell It! Find It! Rent It! Buy It! in the Hope Star

MARKET PLACE

Remember, the more you tell, the quicker you sell.
1 time, 10c line, min. 30c
For consecutive insertions, minimum of 3 lines in one ad
3 times, 6c line, min. 50c
6 times, 5c line, min. 90c
26 times, 3½c line, min. $2.70
(Average 5½ words to the line)

NOTE—Want ads will be accepted with the understanding that the bill is payable on presentation of statement, before the first publication.

Phone 768

WANTED

WANTED — Used clothing, ladies dresses, coats, shoes, Men's suits, shoes, hats, etc. Joyce asd Floyd McDowell. 1-6tp.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—We have a very high grade Baby Grand Piano, also two Uprights that we have collected large sums on. Will sell for small balance due on easy terms. Address: Hollenberg Music Company, 315 W. Capitol, Little Rock, Ark. 8-3tc

FOR RENT

FOR RENT — 3-room Furnished apartment with private bath. Garage. A. Sullivan, Phone 147. 8-6tc

FOR RENT—Two room furnished apartment. Souther nexposure. Phone apartment. Southern exposure. Phone 93-W. Mrs. Walter Locke. 8-3tc

LOST

LOST—Black keytainer with car key number 1135 and several other keys; identification number 7018153. Reward return Hope Star. 9-3tc

REWARD for return of Electric Fan taken from side of Sanders Grocery Monday afternoon. Mrs. Lon Sanders. 9-3tc

Legal Notice

LIQUOR PERMIT

Notice is hereby given that the Commissioner of Revenues of the State of Arkansas has issued a permit to John C Porterfield to sell and dispense vinous or spirituous liquors for beverage at retail on the premises described as 108 East 2nd, Hope, Ark.

This permit issued on the 1st day of July, 1935, and expires on the 30th day of June, 1936.

John C. Porterfield.

July 2-9.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION In Hope School District No. 1-A Of Hempstead County, Ark.

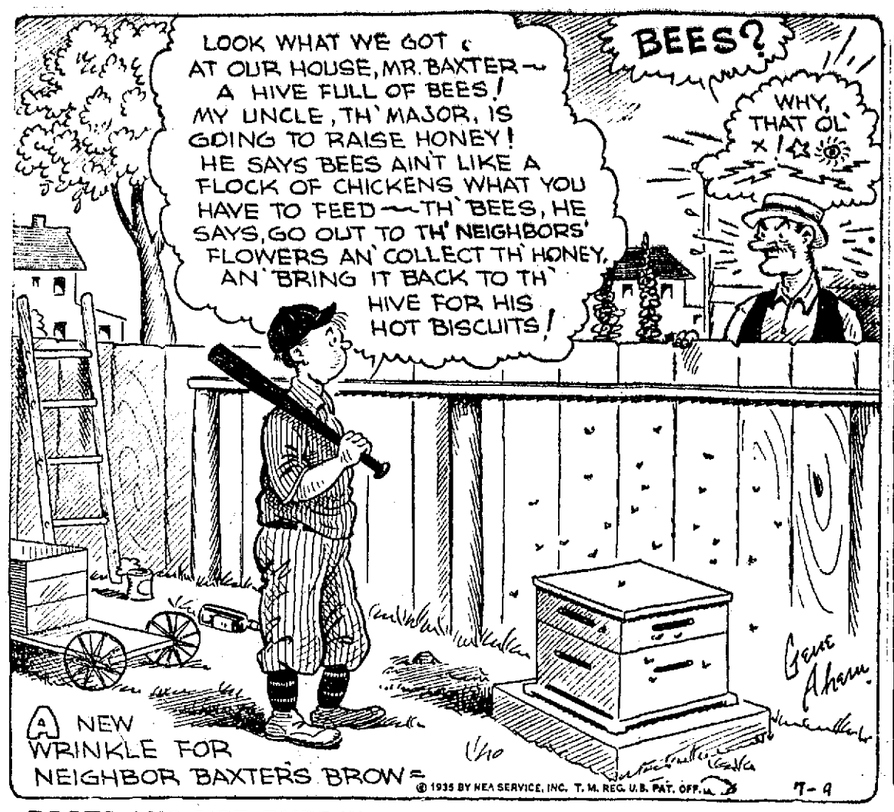

Notice is hereby given that the County Court of Hempstead County, Arkansas, has called a special election to be held in Hope School District No. 1-A of Hempstead County, Arkansas, on the 31st day of July, 1935, at which time the qualified electors of the said School District shall vote on the question of a 7 mill building fund tax, to be collected annually on the assessed valuation of the taxable property in the District, beginning with the taxes collected in 1936, to repay the principal and interest of a proposed refunding bond issue of $229,972.00 to exchange for our present $229,972.00 outstanding bonds, which will run for thirty years. Such election shall be held in said District on the 31st day of July, 1935, between the hours of 2:00 p. m. and 6:30 p. m. and otherwise in the same manner as provided by law for holding special school elections, at the following place, to-wit; in the City Hall of the City of Hope, Arkansas.

WITNESS my hand this 9th day of July, 1935.

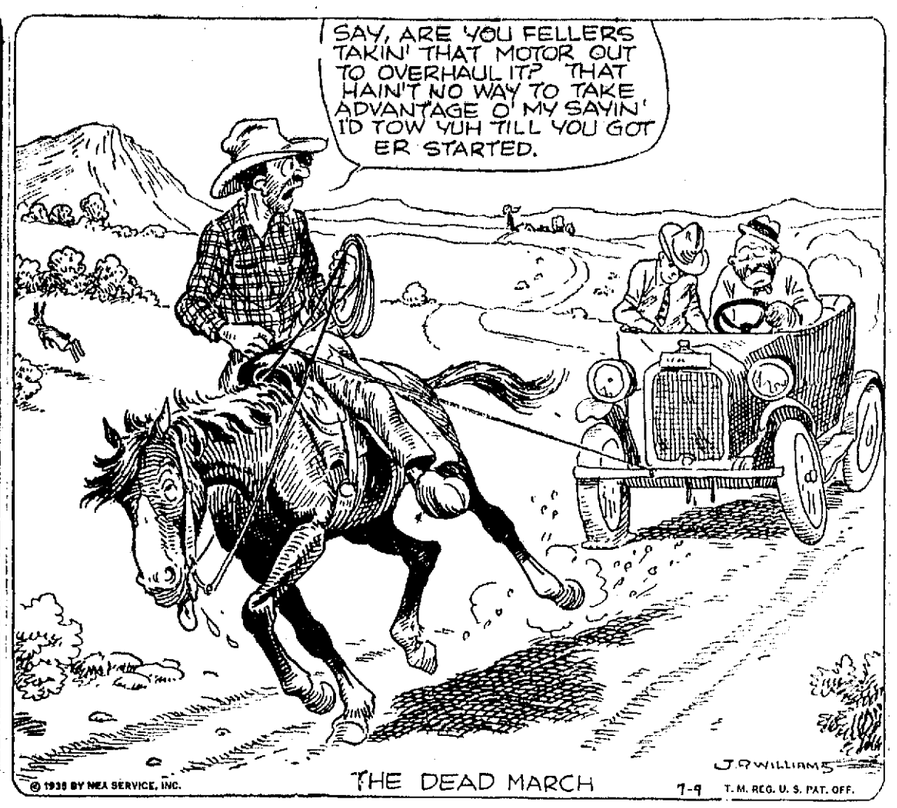

E. E. AUSTIN,
County Examiner.

July 9-16-23-30.

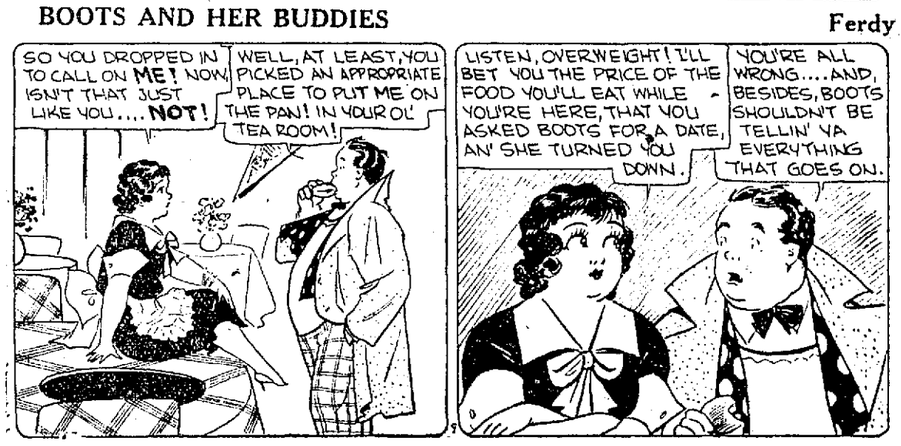

OUR BOARDING HOUSE — By AHERN

OUT OUR WAY — By WILLIAMS

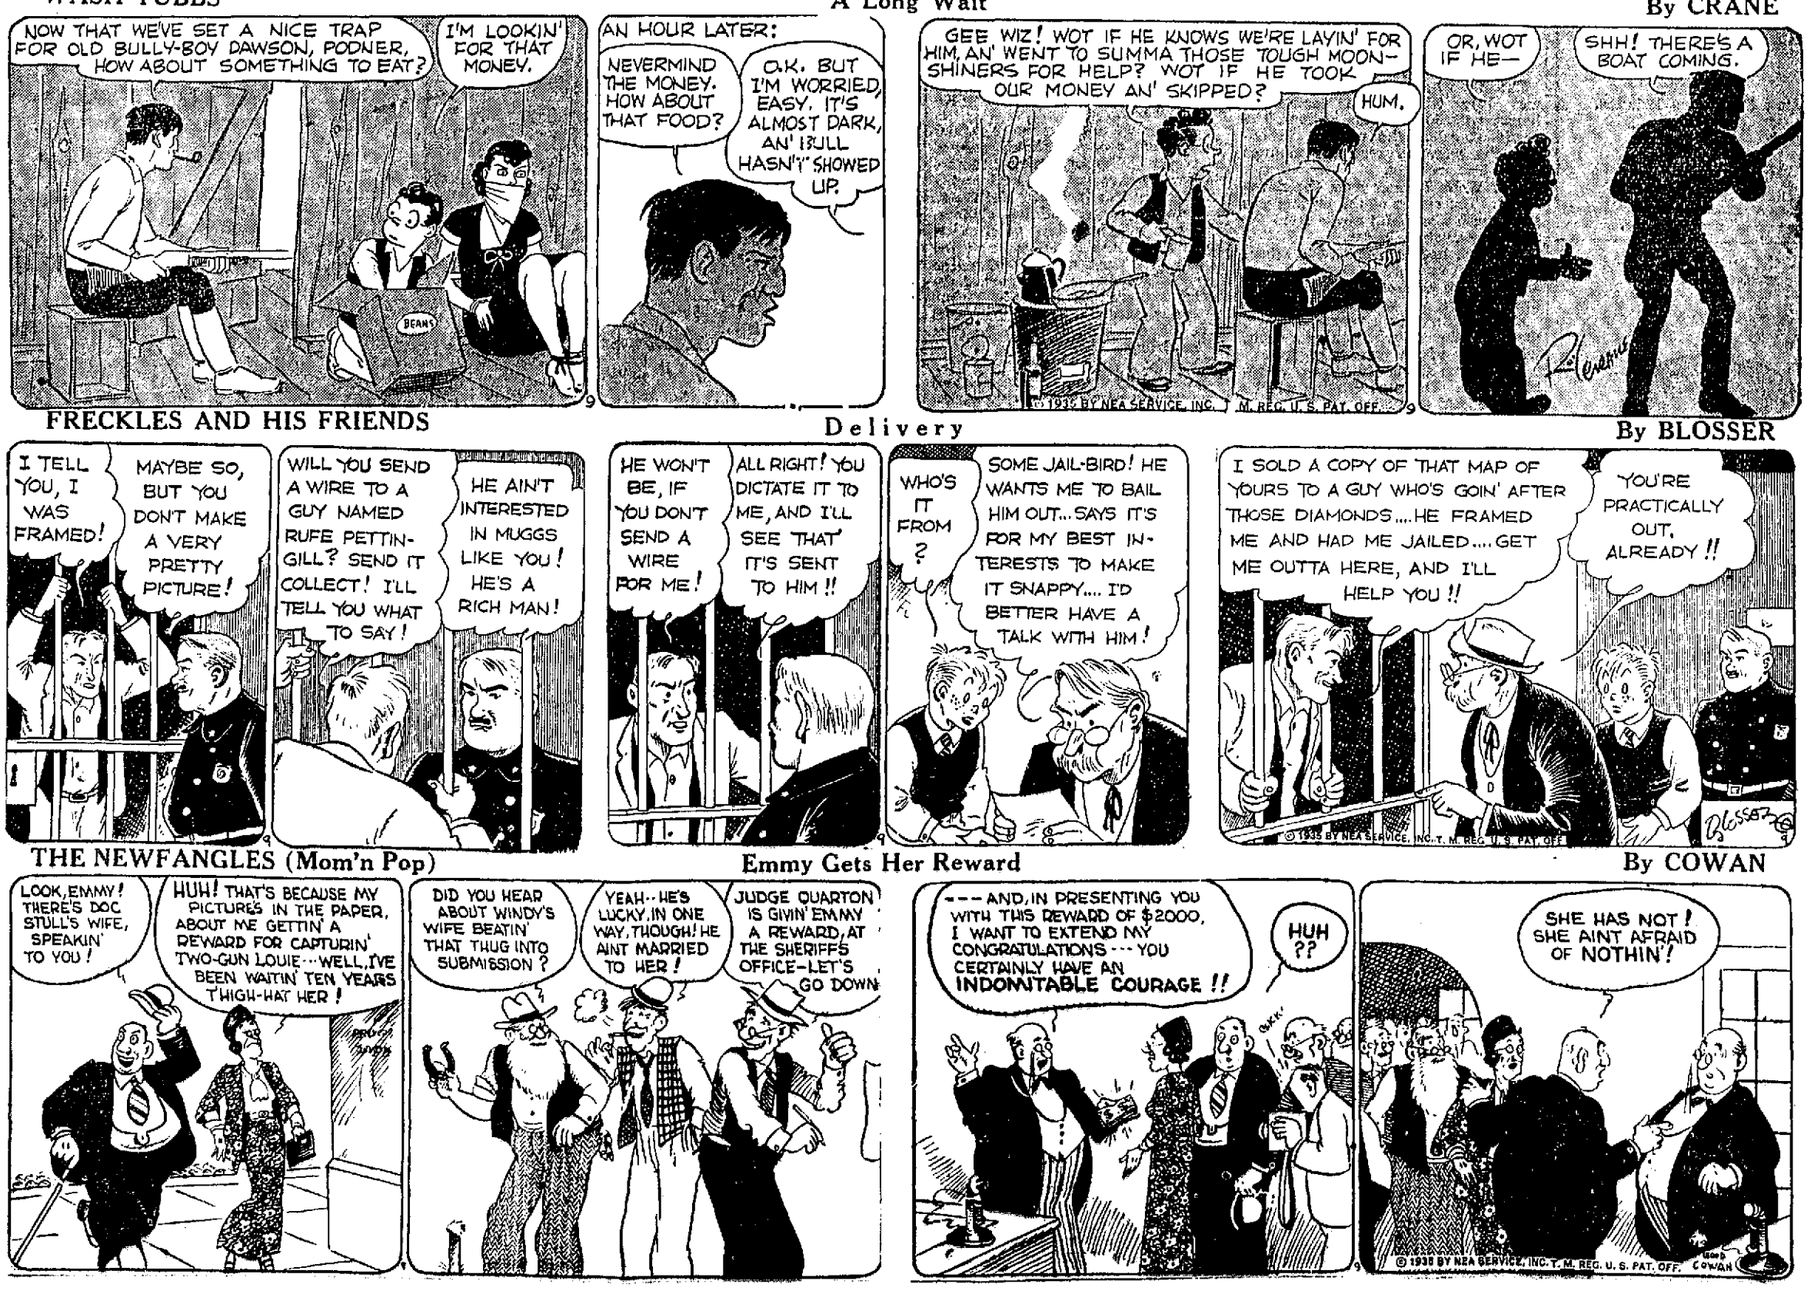

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES — Ferdy Gets No Place — By MARTIN

ALLEY OOP — The "Orphan" and the "Widow" — By HAMLIN

WASH TUBBS — A Long Wait — By CRANE

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS — Delivery — By BLOSSER

THE NEWFANGLES (Mom'n Pop) — Emmy Gets Her Reward — By COWAN

37 Dead in Floods in New York State

Property Damage Estimated at 10 Million in Summer Storm

ALBANY, N. Y.—(AP)—A bright sun poked its head out of the storm clouds in most sections Tuesday as up-state New York pushed relief work in the wake of flood waters that brought death to 37 and caused property damage ranging around 10 million dollars.

Eight persons are still missing and more than 2,000 are temporarily homeless.

Flood Crisis Passes

ALBANY, N. Y.—(AP)—The casualties in upstate New York's cloudburst and subsequent floods reached 50 Monday night—22 dead and 8 missing and property damage was estimated to be well over $10,000,000. Several thousand temporarily were homeless.

After Gov. Herbert H. Lehman gave authority to National Guard officers to press the infantry into service, units at Elmira and Hornell were held in readiness to move to the flood-stricken areas.

"We have been informed there is looting of homes at Hornell and Painted Post," said Capt. John Mosier of the Elmira infantry.

Governor Lehman obtained transfer of 25,000 relief workers from works projects to flood areas, and American Red Cross in Washington rushed three "disaster relief workers" to Hornell and Bath in Steuben county.

Four dams collapsed and scores of bridges and railroad lines were washed out. Gas and electric service was suspended in several municipalities. Many hundreds were driven from their homes in lowlands. Buses and automobiles were marooned by the scores. Communication lines also were widely affected.

Swollen rivers and creeks were receding gradually in most sections, and the Weather Bureau said that occasional showers forecast for the next two hours should not increase the danger.

See CHARLES BRYAN for
DUAL-WHEEL TRAILERS
BRYAN'S USED PARTS Co.
411 South Hazel

Honeymooners Lost the Point

Niagara's roar was momentarily challenged as this man-made blast tore a 5000-ton slice off Table Rock at the Canadian tip of Horseshoe Falls and sent it crashing into the gorge below. Fifty thousand holiday visitors watched spellbound as a second blast reduced the ledge, often called "Honeymoon Point," to half its former size. The dynamiting was undertaken to guard against possible rock slides from a crack extending 200 feet along the table.

Futrell to Call

(Continued from Page One)

the streets or highways of the state.

"Furthermore, the purchase of a license tag has absolutely no relation to the purchase of an automobile. A person could keep an automobile for a number of years and would still have to pay the license tax to operate it on the highways of the state.

"In my opinion there is this illogical contention on the part of the automobile dealers. They maintain that the sales tax due is the difference between the amount paid for an automobile license tag and the amount due under the 2 per cent sales tax. This, in fact, would be increasing the privilege tax of the automobile license tag up to an amount not to exceed two per cent.

To File Test Suit

Plans to file a test suit in court to see if state automobile license fees cannot be deducted from the tax on new cars under the state sales tax were made at a special meeting of the Arkansas Automobile Dealers association Monday night.

Every member was urged to pay a year's dues in advance to defray costs of the suit and to strive to get other dealers to join the association. A total of $902.50 was collected.

It was pointed out that unless the full costs of the suit are collected first, the suit cannot be filed because a few dealers would have to bear the burden.

Over 100 dealers attended the meeting, with L. C. Cargile of Texarkana, state president, presiding.

Plans to file the suit were formulated after a brief talk by Grover T. Owens, Little Rock attorney, who thought the suit could be won. Others who made talks in favor of filing the suit included: E. P. Young of Hope, Felix Smart of Pine Bluff, E. T. Horner of Helena, T. P. Marks of El Dorado and Henry Thomas of Little Rock.

HOLLYWOOD GOSSIP

Thomas

INTIMATE GLIMPSES AND INSIDE STUFF ON THE MOVIE COLONY

BY DAN THOMAS

What Would You Like to Have Stars Do?

HOLLYWOOD—Things I'd like to write about—if they'd only happen:

Mae West writing something without first plopping into bed.

Josef Von Sternberg wearing a well-tailored suit.

Constance Bennett saying "please."

William Powell appearing in public in a sweat shirt.

Carole Lombard using the king's English.

Jeanette MacDonald marrying Robert Ritchie, her manager.

Boris Karloff making a picture without wakeup.

Inez Courtney and Erin O'Brien-Moore getting the breaks they deserve.

Herbert Marshall showing lots of pep.

If Garbo Talked!

Garbo turning conversational.

The dispute over Ann Harding's daughter being settled in her favor.

Wallace Berry not being grumpy.

Jean Harlow turning brunet.

Samuel Goldwyn talking calmly on the telephone.

Mary Pickford and Joan Crawford forming an ex-Mrs. Fairbanks club.

Louis B. Mayer going sour on dancing.

Ernst Lubitsch cutting out cigars.

Mary Brian going dateless for a week.

Cecil B. DeMille acting natural.

Dick Powell finding a wife to run his new 16-room mansion.

Dolores Del Rio and Lupe Velez dining together.

Marlene Dietrich making a good picture.

Gary Cooper buying another yellow and green car like the one he had B. M. (before marriage).

Dancing Sensations

George Arliss doing a hula.

Fred Astaire teaming up with Eleanor Powell.

Irene Dunne making another hole-in-one to prove her first one wasn't an accident.

Jimmy Cagney getting into an off-screen fight.

Charlie Chaplin taking out citizenship papers.

Gloria Swanson living in a modest bungalow.

Will Rogers appearing at a formal party in a tuxedo.

Warner Baxter riding horseback—for fun.

Al Jolson and Ruby Keeler having a baby of their own. Ditto Pat and Eloise O'Brien.

Wendy Barrie keeping appointments.

W. C. Fields remembering his lines.

Gertrude Michael grabbing herself a swell part.

Good Substitute

Everyone in Hollywood is feeling sorry for Janet Gaynor, whose condition is far more serious than is indicated even by her removal from the "Way Down East" cast. There are cheers, however, for Winfield Sheehan's selection of Rochelle Hudson to replace Janet. This is Rochelle's biggest opportunity to date and probably will catapult her to stardom. Although the picture is half finished, studio execs figured it would be cheaper to reshoot the scenes in which Janet appeared than to wait two months for her to recover.

It will take at least that long.

Women's Critic

Virginia Bruce, the fourth ex-Mrs. John Gilbert, is privately perturbed. It seems that the blond actress is irked by what she terms the masculinity of women.

"Women are so stupid," she exclaimed as a hairdresser rearranged her long tresses between scenes of "Murder Man." "They seem to think they must look and act like men to accomplish big things. If they only knew it, they could do a great deal more by adopting some of the feminine qualities of our grandmothers."

Under Beauty's Wings

Pinkie Tomlin has a bodyguard. And what a bodyguard! Alice Faye, Gail Patrick, Ida Lupino, Frances Langford, and Patsy Kelley. Knowing the singing Oklahoman is very susceptible to feminine flattery and fearing he might make some rash promises, these girls have banded together to protect him. And all have agreed never to become engaged to him. Wouldn't it be nice to have so many beauties interested in your welfare?

Jealous?

Constance Collier nearly caused a volcanic eruption on the Paramount lot the other day when she declined to meet Ann Harding. Miss Collier, who originated the role of Duchess of Towers in the London stage production of "Peter Ibbetson," visited the set on which the screen version of this play was being filmed. But for reasons she kept to herself, she didn't want to met Miss Harding

The Top

"What is the outstanding contribution that chemistry has given to the world?"

Flo.—"Blonds."—U. S. S. Tennessee Tar.

Arbitrators Give Up Hope for Italy

Conciliation Apparently Fails in Italo-Ethiopian Crisis

SCHEVENINGEN, The Netherlands—(AP)—The conciliation commission seeking to avert war between Italy and Ethiopia decided Tuesday to suspend hearings indefinitely.

The members arranged to depart immediately, having already communicated their opinions to the agents of the governments they represent.

Here and There

(Continued from Page One)

ant automobile trade. All of these cities have newspapers that would lose thousands of dollars in motor advertising should the new-car trade go over the state line. That is an honest picture of things—a picture which the legislature understood in writing the Hall law, as proved by the text already quoted in this column.

If the law and its interpretation are at variance, then the courts should decide quickly—and this would be another matter for legislative amendment.

X X X

There is a solution, of course. Ours is this one:

If the legislature determines that automobile sales do have to stand this new tax on top of the present special automobile taxes and licenses, then the way it should be done is this:

Increase the annual license charge by $5 or so, and segregate this $5 from the state highway funds, turning it over to the sales tax division. In three years the $5 charge would have accumulated $15 as sales tax—without interfering with new-car sales.

It would then do a man no good to purchase his car outside of Arkansas, for the sales tax would be collected against him so long as he operated his car within this state.

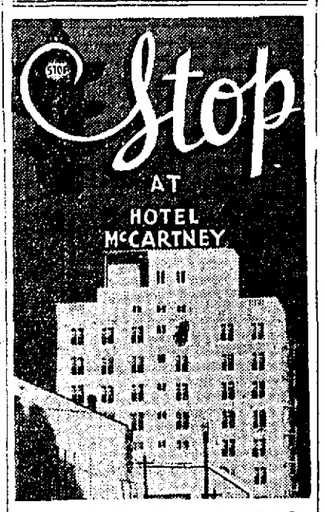

CROSS CHILDREN MAY HAVE WORMS
Watch for upset little stomachs, bad breath, fretfulness, loss of weight, itching around nose and arms. They may have pin or round worms. Whites Cream Vermifuge has safely and for years, reliably expelled the worms and toned the delicate tract. Whites Cream Vermifuge recommended by druggists.
BRIANT'S DRUG STORE

MEN'S SUITS
Cleaned and Pressed
Cash and Carry 50c
Called for and Delivered 65c
Hope Steam Laundry
Phone 148

Buy Ice With
"Maximum Refrigeration"
From
HOME ICE CO.
PHONE 44

For FINE FOOD Try the
CHECKERED CAFE
It's Safe to Be Hungry
Plate Lunch—35c
Sandwiches of All Kinds.

666 Checks MALARIA in 3 days
Liquid - Tablets Salve - Nose Drops
COLDS first day
Tonic and Laxative

You'll feel at home in Hotel McCartney. Attractively furnished outside rooms with bath, circulating ice water and ceiling fan. Excellent food at reasonable prices. Entirely fireproof. Rates: single, $2.00, $3.00; double, $3.00, $4.50.

W. A. McCARTNEY JR. MANAGER
HOTEL McCARTNEY
TEXARKANA, U.S.A.

OLD-FASHIONED SIMPLICITY

TELEPHONE SERVICE in this country is modern. It leads the world. Yet there is an old-fashioned simplicity about the Bell System. This applies to capital structure and financial methods as well as to the nation-wide plan of decentralized operation under centralized control.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company has only one class of stock and that stock is not watered.

It has 675,000 stockholders living in every corner of the land. Their average holding is twenty-eight shares. No individual or organization owns as much as one per cent of the stock. There are no secret reserves or hidden assets.

This structure is not of recent origin, but dates back many years to the early days of the telephone. It has lived on because it is right and in the best interest of the public. It has been fundamental in making the Bell System a distinctive American business.

* * *

In the Bell System, the American Telephone & Telegraph Company is the parent company, and operates the long distance lines connecting the 24 regional Bell companies. Bell Laboratories carries on the research work; Western Electric manufactures, purchases, and distributes.

Without this specialized organization back of the men and women of the Southwestern Bell, telephone service might be possible. But it could not be service as uniformly good, as quietly accurate, as far-reaching, and as inexpensive as the service you know today.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

NOW—A New Phone Service

When you want to rent a spare room, sell a used car or find a lost article—just Phone 768 and place a classified ad in the Want Ad columns of The Hope Star. A new arrangement has been made whereby The Star is able to accept your Want Ad over the telephone. (Formerly cash had to accompany all orders).

Take advantage of this new service—get the Want Ad habit for quick, inexpensive results.

You will find The Hope Star's Want Ads real GO-GETTERS. And now they are as close as your telephone.

JUST PHONE 768

Star Want Ads Will Do the Rest

Sunshine Blues

ALONG about this time of the year we begin to get sun-conscious. Last winter, remember, we longed for weather like this—honestly believed a real sunburn would be a thing of beauty and a joy forever! Now we're looking forward to the season when the thermometer will go down and down.

Strange? Not at all! One of our basic characteristics is desire for change. And your newspaper is dedicated to the daily satisfaction of this human need. Each day it is as new as that day's sunrise. Each day it is full of surprising things.

And nothing in it is newer in appeal or in opportunity than the advertisements. They are filled with facts about all the things you want today and will be wanting tomorrow. Always changing, to keep up with your own eternal desire for change, the advertisements in this newspaper are guide posts to happier living. Read them regularly—they offer opportunities you should not miss.

American League Team Again Wins

Defeats National All-Stars for Third Consecutive Year

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—(AP)—For the third successive year, an all-star team composed of American League players defeated picked players of the National League here Monday. A crowd of approximately 70,000 saw the game in the huge Cleveland Stadium. The score was 4 to 1.

A big man from the American League's second division, Jimmie Foxx of the Philadelphia Athletics, and Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, one of the best of the New York pitching corps, were the two who sent the Nationals into defeat.

Gomez starting for the Americans, subdued the enemy with only three hits over six innings while Foxx, batting star of Connie Marck's forces, hit a home run with Lou Gehrig on base in the first inning to give the Americans a lead they never surrendered.

That was all the start required by the team of Mickey Cochrane of Detroit. Mel Harder, pitching before the "home folks" of Cleveland mostly, took care of the rest of it, allowing the National Leaguers one harmless hit and no runs in the final three innings that he worked.

Gomez, Harder and Foxx, who also drove in another run, received a tremendous ovation as they left the field at the Cleveland Stadium from one of the five largest crowds in the history of baseball—a crowd that didn't come up to its early promise of a record-breaker, but one that counted exactly 69,812 and gave the largest gross receipts of the three inter-league all-star games played thus far—$93,692.80.

The triumph of the Americans, another in the year's string of upsets, was a bitter one for the Nationals, led by Frankie Frisch of the St. Louis Cardinals. Although they had a force of 20 of the league's finest, the Americans used only 10 men until the final inning when they sent in three substitutes. The Nationals used every man except Manager Frisch and Carl Hubbell, star southpaw of the New York Giants and the big pitching hero of last year's defeat, who did not play because he had pitched a hard league game the day before for the Giants. The great Dizzy Dean got into action but not until the final inning when the National League defeat appeared sealed.

Dizzy barely escaped the assault, too, as Foxx worked him for a pass and Al Simmons, in a current slump with the White Sox but a star Monday with two hits, doubled with one down in the eighth.

Elections are like prize fights. You can't win if you're going to hit your opponent with cream puffs. You've got to use dynamite.—J. E. Benoit, Danbury, Conn., official.

Her Suit Filed 'Under the Wire'

The fair sex is hardly famed for punctuality, but this comely dancer tripped into court in Chicago just in time to file a $250,000 breach of promise suit. She is Dorothy Appleby, 25, stage and screen beauty, who alleges that Sidney M. Spiegel, Jr., theatrical executive, arranged for a honeymoon, then said "it's no go." Hers was among balm suits which flooded Illinois courts on the eve of the deadline set by a new law outlawing such actions.

Monday's 100 Is

(Continued from Page One)

se but maximums did not reach the high marks of a year ago.

Three persons were overcome by heat at Leavenworth, Kan., as the temperature passed the 101-mark. One of the three, Charles Miller, 51, farmer, died. Glenn Allison, 34, river worker, died at Atchison after a heat stroke. Heat was a contributing factor in the death of Mrs. Theodosia Trigg Thornton Lawson, 98, at St. Joseph, Mo.

Heat records were broken in Texas. Pampa, in the Panhandle, had a high of 103.5. At Brownsville, nearly 1,000 miles to the southeast, the mercury reached 93. Longview had 102 and Sherman and Waco both 101. At Dallas the mercury reached 96.

Oklahoma baked. The mercury climbed to 104 at Bartlesville 100 at Ada and 97.8 at Oklohamo City.

At Kansas City a high of 98 was recorded. At Wichita, Kan., the maximum was 99.

The tendon of Achilles, located in the heel, can resist a strain of 1000 pounds without breaking.

Long Admits He's a Very Smart Guy

Roosevelt Copying Tax Plan Kingfish Thought of "When Only 14"

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—United States Senator Huey P. Long, in a radio speech here Monday night, called President Roosevelt a "liar and a faker" and defied "them" to "indict me for that."

Senator Long made the statement in reviewing work of the recent special session of the Louisiana legislature at which he directed enactment of 25 laws designed to tighten his grip on the state government and strip his political enemies of their patronag.

Discussing a resolution adopted by the legislature calling on congress to replace the recently enacted old age pension bill with a measure drafted by Senator Long, the Louisiana dictator said:

"Let me tell you about this Roosevelt pension plan. Under it, there are 280,000 persons in Louisiana who would qualify, and Louisiana would get about $1,000,000, which would mean that the state's old age pensioners would get $3.60 a year or a little less than one cent a day.

"That's what Franklin Delano Roosevelt sends you down here. Franklin Roosevelt is a liar and a faker. Now let them indict me for that and I'll prove him a liar.

"That pension plan is a fake," Long continued. "Mr. Franklin Delano Roosevelt has never done anything but fake on things that ever did the people any good."

The senator then switched to a discussion of what he termed the "original old age pension plan introduced by Mr. Huey P. Long." He said he was the first to offer congress an old age pension bill.

"I first introduced an old age pension plan in 1932," Long said. "Then again in 1933 and 1934, and three consecutive times they turned it down and then came along and gave you this Roosevelt plan."

Continuing his attack on the president, Long said:

"Don't think these senators, presidents and congressmen are too big. I'm as big as President Roosevelt. Why, he's copying my share-the-wealth speeches now that I was writing when I was 14 years old. So he's just now getting as smart as I was in knee breeches."

The New Deal

(Continued from Page One)

from $294,000,000 worth of corporation-owned farm land in 1930 to $770,000,000 in 1933—and the figures don't tell the story, because farm land values slumped plenty in that period.

But there was a huge number of farms in process of foreclosure in 1933 which have since been foreclosed, and latest confidential reports show a general increase in farm sales this year.

Also, many AAA officials have been startled by an Iowa State College study which shows that 10.1 per cent of the acreage in Secretary Wallace's home state is now corporation-owned, compared with only 7.2 per cent in 1933.

Just a Kindly Remark

Representative Maverick of Texas: "I do not believe a word the gentleman from Main (Mr. Brewster) said."

Representative Brewster of Maine: "I ask that the words be taken down. He said he did not believe a word I uttered."

Speaker Byrns: "The Chair would state to the gentleman that the Chair does not thing that implies the gentleman utered an untruth."

Huey the Uplifter

Huey Long was lolling among his bodyguards at his Broadmoor apartment and discussing with a visitor a mutual friend who writes articles on economics.

"He's writing good stuff," said Huey, "but tell him to lay off money. Tell him not to write about money any more. That's MY field."

Whereupon a couple of the guards indulged in the Louisiana version of the Bronx cheer.

"There you go," complained Huey. "I pick you guys up out of the gutter and make respectable citizens out of you and now you throw me down."

Sartorial Eyesore Gone

Aside from General Johnson and Robbie, nothing is more conspicuously missing here this summer than Undersecretary Rex Tugwell's purple tropical weight suit.

Rex wore it occasionally through last summer and his friends supposed this was just one of those awful ideas that sometimes come to a man and nothing can be done about it.

The truth is, the suit was blue when bought, but got into a laundry instead of the dry cleaner's and came back something else again. Obviously, you could not give it away and Rex felt that frugality required he wear it to the office.

But it hasn't been seen this year and the rumor is that Mrs. Tugwell found a way to dispose of it.

Federal Proposal

(Continued from Page One)

day its showdown over the mandatory abolition of utility holding companies. Renewed efforts were made to gain a senate inquiry into utility and other lobbying.

In the senate, Clark of Missouri, exhumed an aged statute forbidding the use of government money as remuneration for personal services to influence legislation.

Aimed in part at the administration's use of Charles West, HOLC official, as a contact man on Capitol Hill, Clark indicated his discovery would be used to further his effort to expand the proposed senate inquiry to include all lobbying regardless of the bills involved.

The senate audit commitee was expected to approve the proposed senate investigation at a meeting called for Wednesday. There were indications, however, that it would whittle down the $150,000 suggested to cover its cost.

Rankin, who led the cloakroom fight for the president's mandatory abolition clause in the utility bill, drew a quick retort Monday with his renewed charge that congressional telephone wires had been tapped.

Philip H. Gadsden, chairman of the Committee of Public Utility Executives, said he believed Rankin's first charge "unfortunate as it was, was made in jest."

"By repeating that accusation Monday, Mr. Rankin apparently is beginning to believe his own statement," Gadsden said. "Repetition of a false statement cannot make a truth out of it—and can be inspired only by maliciousness. The Committee of Public Utility Executives welcomes an investigation of this latest charge to demonstrate that it is as false and absurd as other statements made by Mr. Rankin in sponsoring the Wheeler-Rayburn (utility) bill."

Rankin asked that all members of both the house and senate be called before the projected senate investigating committee and required to "give an accounting."

"Let him show how much utilities stock he owns, whether or not he has been in secret conference with these power trust lobbyists during this session of congress; and, above all, whether or not as a lawyer he or his firm is on the pay roll of these utilities," Rankin said.

Anchoring Soil in Dust Storm Area's 'Comeback'

During winter and early spring everything looked pretty hopeless in the "dust bowl" of Oklahoma, Kansas and eastern Colorado. But recent rains have revived hope, and many of the desolate acres of last winter are being sowed to anchoring feed crops with the hope that wheat again may be planted in the fall. Here are the sons of W. O. Brown using a tractor to pull a lister drill planter on their father's farm near Springfield, Colo., in the heart of the dust-storm area. Note the hard, wind-swept soil in the foreground.

BARBS

Minnesota physician says men may be shorter in the next 100 years. They've had a good start since '29.

Max Baer's wife hopes he won't fight any more. If his future engagements resemble the one with Braddock, her wish will be fulfilled.

In Australia, a stammerers' club has been formed. It is not expected to outline the first filibuster.

With those synthetic complexions, women might be termed "the varnishing race."

Los Angeles test reveals a man trembles more tha na woman. Before accepting this fact as conclusive, it would be interesting to know whether he had been teaching her to drive.

Still Green

Boss—"You are twenty minutes late again. Don't you know what time we start work at this factory?"

New Employee—"No, sir, they're always at it when I get here."—Boy's Life.

HOTEL SNYKER
(All Outside Rooms)
Home Cooked Meals—Family Style—35c
Don't worry Phone 175 MA SNYKER will feed you.

There's a Whole Lot More in a CROSLEY
SHELVADOR
Electric Refrigerator
HOUSTON ELECTRIC SHOP
Phone 781

Now 10% Reduction
On Our Entire Stock of
WASH FROCKS
THE GIFT SHOP
Front Street

SEE THE NEW
G-E "Noiseless"
Electric Fans

33 1-3% More Air Volume—Absolutely Silent. Plain or Oscillating.
HEMPSTEAD COUNTY LUMBER CO.
Phone 89 Hope, Ark.

Mens and Women's
WASH SUITS
Cleaned 50c Pressed
Called for and Delivered
Hall Brothers
CLEANERS
111 South Elm Phone 385

WASH SUITS
PROPERLY LAUNDERED
50c
NELSON-HUCKINS

BEAUTY ENSEMBLE
Admiracion shampoo and finger-wave, manicure, facial, and arch.
$2.50 value for $2.00
MARY'S BEAUTY SHOP
Phone 287 for appointments.

WANTED
Forked Leaf White Oak and Cow Oak
HEADING BOLTS and LOGS
No. 1 and 2 Grade
For Prices and Specifications Apply to
HOPE HEADING CO.
PHONE 245

PLANT HEGARI!
A late feed crop ideally suited for hill and overflow lands.
Monts Seed Store

Lewis Grocery
& MARKET
Quality Meats, Groceries and Vegetables—for less money.
Specials Every FRI. and SAT.
GIVE US A TRIAL

We sell you what you ask for and what you want—not something "Just as Good." Bring us your prescription. Two registered druggists.
SPECIALS for Saturday and Monday Only
5 Cakes PALMOLIVE SOAP 19c
5 Cakes (big) TOILET SOAP 19c
BRIANT'S DRUG STORE
"Your Trade Appreciated"

NEWS
that thousands of motorists have been wanting to hear
Magnolia Announces a Vastly Improved
LUBRITE MOTOR OIL
in Refinery-Sealed Cans
at 25c a quart

FOR the second time this year, Magnolia makes an important announcement that means definite savings to car owners. First, the new summer Mobiloil set a new high standard of performance for premium motor oils. Now a vastly improved Lubrite Motor Oil brings better quality into the medium priced field than you have ever known before!

Tested under brutal conditions against dozens of other motor oils, Lubrite proved conclusively that it is the best oil in its price class. Checked again and again for consumption, gumming and carbon forming tendencies, Lubrite outclassed many oils selling at a higher price.

If you want the world's finest lubrication, we still say—use Mobiloil! But if you want the best lubrication that a quarter can buy, we urge you to ask for Lubrite.

Both Mobiloil and Lubrite are available in refinery sealed cans or in bulk at leading dealers and wherever you see the sign of the "Flying Red Horse."

A NEW CAR SHINE IN HALF THE TIME
Mobilgloss is a quick-acting cleaner and polish. Dissolves dirt and road film instantly with a minimum of rubbing. Mobilwax gives a hard, lasting wax finish. Goes on in a jiffy without streaking. Get both wherever you see the famous Mobiloil Sign.

Made by the Makers of Mobiloil
B-LU-46
THE WORLD'S LARGEST SELLING MOTOR OIL
MAGNOLIA DEALERS and STATIONS
A SOCONY-VACUUM COMPANY
"Stay with Magnolia and you stay ahead!"

Ask For Magnolia Products at the Following:
MOBIL SERVICE STATION, 3rd and L. & A., Phone 68
HOPE BASKET CO., 8th and Grady St., Phone 328
W. C. GRIFFIN, Washington, Arkansas
G. M. CANNON, McNab, Arkansas
J. W. HARPER, West Third Street
P. A. DULIN, Jr., Magnolia Wholesale Agent, 3rd and L. & A., Phone 68
S. DUDNEY, Shover Springs, Arkansas
HOPE AUTO CO., West 2nd Street, Phone 654
EMMET GARAGE, Emmet, Arkansas